Oil Leases Bring Alberta $9 Millions

Tenseness Marks Oil Bidding

IT'S BIG BUSINESS when they bid on Alberta oil lands. There is tenseness that is matched by happy expectation. Just who would get what held attention of these bidders at yesterday's record auction. Footprints Spur Hunt For Airmen

Gale Hampering Search For Men Thought on Island

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 17.—(CP)—An ominous gale chopped northern British Columbia coastal waters today as seven search parties disembarked from the Canadian destroyer Cayuga, nerve centre of the search for five American fliers from the crashed B-36.

Search for the airmen believed down on Princess Royal Island, some 400 miles northwest of here, was sparked by two new clues—a blood spattered patch in the snow where a man had apparently fallen and an SOS stamped in the snow.

A Royal Canadian Navy spokesman at Esquimalt, B.C., said these were sighted yesterday, but northern darkness closed in before investigation was completed.

FORCED TO CRAWL

One search party did not return to the Cayuga until nearly midnight. It was delayed when thickness of island growth forced members of the party to crawl a "considerable distance" on their hands and knees.

Aircraft in readiness at international airport here and at Washington state bases will renew the air sweep as soon as 40 mile an hour gales subside.

Snow is falling on the island, already covered by 18 inches. Winds, which began early in the day, are expected to die this afternoon.

SEEN FROM 'COPTER

A United States helicopter spotted the SOS and imprint. Four parachutes also were located, but it is not known whether they belonged to the missing men or to those already rescued.

Twelve of the 17 airmen who parachuted from the flaming B-36 early Tuesday have been found and returned to McChord field, Wash. Two of them were injured.

The 12th survivor rescued was Lieut. Charles G. Pooler of Beloit, Kas.

Another Singer For Roosevelt

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The Stork Club yesterday announced an engagement party for Elliot Roosevelt and Gigi Durston—but cancelled it just a few minutes later.

The late president's son and the pretty cafe singer had said in the meantime that they're not ready to announce their engagement.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17—(AP)—The singing telegram is coming back—by remote control.

Western Union notified the federal communications commission Thursday that it is going to resume this "social service" in 77 United States cities April 1. It was dropped in September, 1942, to give priority to wartime business.

Because "good messenger crooners are scarce," the greetings will be delivered by telephone. Only birthday messages will be accepted.

Winter Spell Returns Here

Another spell of winter weather has invaded Edmonton district, with temperatures ranging from nine below to a forecast five above.

Main force of the cold air entered Edmonton district near midnight Thursday and temperatures fell throughout the day. Yesterday's high of three above occurred at 1 p.m. while the nine below minimum was at 6:30 this morning.

Light snow started in Edmonton near 7:30 last night and continued intermittently throughout the night. By early morning the weather office measured a total of one-half inch of snow.

WINDS STRONG

Cold air now covers all of Alberta and Saskatchewan, and is accompanied in many regions by strong winds. With temperatures near zero, Saskatchewan has been experiencing winds up to 36 miles-an-hour.

Quarter Sells For $1.5 Million

By Pat McVean
Bulletin Staff Writer

The Alberta treasury is richer today by $9,122,145.8, after some of the wealthiest of Canadian and American oil firms paid record-shattering sums for oil rights to the Redwater field near Edmonton.

In a history-making sale yesterday an Alberta company, Royalite Oil Company and Tanner Brothers and Associates, paid $1,519,101 for lease on a quarter section of Crown land, the highest bid ever received for Canadian oil land.

The same company paid more than $1,000,000 each for two other near-by quarter sections.

Previous record high for a quarter section lease was $918,000, also Redwater land.

Altogether the government netted $8,999,382 in the sale yesterday of Redwater land, and added another $122,793 to the treasury this morning for the sale of 33 scattered quarters in other sections of the province where drillers will wildcat for new oil discoveries.

WILDCAT LEASES

More than 50 leading oil men and investors crowded the government's mineral rights office in the administration building here yesterday as mines and minerals department officials opened the sealed tenders.

They waited more than two hours while the highest bids were selected. Many scrambled on chairs to watch H. H. Somerville, director of mineral rights announced the names of the new lease owners and their bids.

All land parcels except one sold yesterday are located near the Simmons discovery well in the Dominion's newest oil field at Redwater. The other is in the Stettler oil and gas field, about 70 miles southeast of Edmonton. It was sold to a Toronto oil man, J. A. Belshaw, for $207,789.

CANADIANS TOP U.S.

Canadian companies were top bidders in the race for leases to Redwater lands, outbidding most American oil men.

Royalite Company which, with Tanner and Associates of Calgary, paid the all-time record high for a quarter section pioneered the Turner Valley field of Southern Alberta.

Besides its top-price purchase of $1,519,101, the company paid nearly as much—$1,414,530—for another quarter section and $1,108,000 for a third quarter, all in the south east sector of the Redwater field.

Only $4,600 Paid for Land Now 'Golden'

All-time record prices at which Redwater oil leases sold yesterday drew the attention of oil magnates throughout United States and Canada, and of an Edmonton floor finisher.

The Edmontonian is Walter Simpson, 11239-79 street. Until six years ago he owned two quarter sections of land in the Redwater field on which mineral rights were leased yesterday for $868,000.

Mr. Simpson's father bought the half-section about 30 years ago, and although title to mineral rights wasn't included in the purchase, the Edmontonian believes the surface rights could have amounted to quite a handsome sum. As it was, the land including surface rights sold for $4,600, in the years when no one thought Redwater would become Canada's biggest oil field.

A combination of geology and numerology may pay off for a California oil company, speculating for the first time on Alberta's oil development.

The Bishop Oil Company of San Francisco submitted a successful tender for a lease to a quarter section of Redwater land in the record-breaking lease sale held here yesterday.

The company's bid was $347,113.47 which according to company officials should be read 347-11-347. "It's the repetion of 347 with the 11 in the middle that accounts for our good luck," beamed one company official when the winning bid was announced.

Yesterday's record-breaking sales boosted the total for the fiscal year to more than $30,000,000. At the end of 1949, the government had taken in $13,999,000 in oil lease sales, and $7,000,000 in rentals and leases in the nine months from March 31, 1949.

Yesterday's near-nine-million dollar sale sent the total oil revenue to $29,948,421 for the fiscal year.

Previous all-time record for the sale price of a quarter section of land was shattered five times yesterday. Until yesterday's sale, highest price ever paid for a Redwater quarter was $918,062, but in the latest sale five quarters each sold for more than that — the highest going for half a million dollars more.

Bookie Sees British Vote Neck-and-Neck

LONDON, Feb. 17. — (AP) — A up leading British bookmaker today predicted that Labor and Conservative parties would be neck-and-neck in betting odds on the eve of next Thursday's election.

Douglas Stuart, Ltd.,—the famed "Dugout always pays" bookie — said he expected the odds on both parties to be 5 to 6 "and take your choice" by Wednesday.

A fund of last-minute bets drove the odds against a Conservative victory from 5 to 4, a position it held for the last two weeks, to 6 to 5.

This means that if you bet on the Conservatives to win you put £5 to win £6, in the event of a Tory victory. The Labor party, which was 8 to 13 yesterday went up to 4 to 6.

Odds against the leading possibilities for prime minister were unchanged, with Winston Churchill the 11-to-8 favorite and Prime Minister Clement Attlee the 6-to-4 second choice.

The reason for this apparent inconsistency in odds is that bettors seem to think there might be a close finish forging a coalition government when Churchill would be more likely to lead the government than Attlee, according to their reckoning.

'SIMPLETONS AS WELL'

Vain, Ignorant Russians, Churchill Writes of Them

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Winston Churchill says the Russians made probably the greatest blunder in history when they failed to guard against Nazi Germany's attack in 1941.

"Error and vanity . . . amazing ignorance"—these are some of the terms applied to Russia's leaders by Britain's wartime prime minister in the latest instalment of his war memoirs.

"War is mainly a catalogue of blunders," Churchill says "but it may be doubted whether any mistake in history has equalled that of which Stalin and the Communist chiefs were guilty when they supinely awaited the fearful onslaught which impended on Russia.

"We have hitherto rated them as selfish calculators.

"In this period they were proved simpletons as well.

Stalin and his commissars showed themselves at this moment the most completely-outwitted bunglers of the Second World War."

Churchill discloses that he warned Stalin in a personal message of German troop movements clearly indicating that an invasion of Russia was imminent.

Yet Russia remained so ill-prepared that throughout 1941 she was more of a burden than a help in the war against Germany.

Churchill praises the Russian people's courage and credits Russia's ultimate assistance with breaking the might of the German armies.

Russia's entry into the war, he says, diverted the German air attack from Great Britain and diminished the threat of invasion, while giving Britain great relief in the Mediterranean war.

But at the same time Britain seriously weakened herself by diverting sorely-needed supplies to the Russians—and got scant thanks for it.

"The Soviet government," Churchill observes, "had the impression that they were conferring a great favor on us by fighting in their own country for their own lives."

He recorded that Stalin needled him consistently and with "monotonous disregard for physical facts" to start a second front long before Britain felt this could be done successfully.

"Stalin even suggested," Churchill says, "that if the British were afraid he would be willing to send around three or four Russian army corps to do the job."

Pope Warns Dictators Silence Public Opinion

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 17.—(UP)—Pope Pius XII said today dictators have silenced public opinion in violation of man's natural rights and the law of God.

"The scandalous tyranny . . . (and) humiliating outrage for both journalists and their readers" should have been ended long ago, he said.

He discussed press freedom and public opinion in a 2,500-word message to Catholic journalists assembled in Rome for the three-day International Conference of Catholic Press.

Because of his illness, the Pontiff did not deliver the message personally. Instead it was printed in French in the official Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano.

COMMUNISM HINTED

Although he did not mention Communism, it was clear the Pope was referring to Communist "dictators."

He told Catholic journalists it was their duty as a contribution to world peace to foster public opinion and guarantee its free exercise.

"In truth," he said, "where opinion ceases to function freely, there peace is in peril . . .

"Whoever wants to serve public opinion loyally, whether it is the social authority or the press itself, must banish absolutely all falsehoods and incitements."

This, he said, would help to clear away "the climate of war."

CCF Charges Manitoba Gov't Failed Its Program

By The Canadian Press

The first want-of-confidence motion in the sessions of the provincial legislatures has been heard.

At Winnipeg opposition leader E. A. Hansford yesterday moved an amendment of no-confidence in the form of an amendment to the address in reply to the Speech form the Throne.

It said the opposition "regrets" the government has "failed to give constructive leadership . . . particularly in providing adequate aid to Manitoba's municipalities for education and social service."

The CCF leaders motion said the coalition government also has taken no steps to cope with problems of housing, rent control and loss of farm markets.

Meanwhile Ontario and Saskatchewan houses opened new sessions, joining four provincial legislatures already in full swing.

At Toronto the throne speech said Ontario is spending $25,000,000 a month on a program of public works which the government hopes may be co-ordinated with that of the federal government to combat unemployment.

RENTALS, HEALTH SERVICE

The program includes development of hydro power, extension of highway construction and building of hospitals, government offices, housing and other public works.

Saskatchewan opened the second session of its 11th legislature with a throne speech forecast of government action in the fields of rentals, health service, natural resources—especially in oil—farm products marketing, prison reform, rural electrification, highway construction and labor legislation.

Opening debate on the throne speech in Quebec's provincial upper house, Gerald Martineau told the legislative council the province is in the midst of an era of development without precedent.

In the legislative assembly, the lower house, Premier Duplessis announced provincial legislation to provide for censorship and seizure of obscene publications.

The premier said the government has no wish to "interfere with liberties" but seeks to restrain sale of "indecent publications that contain pictures, some of them more than pornographic."

$9 Millions Paid For Oil Rights

sociates paid more than $2,000,000 for four quarters.

The price was $1,009,009 for Selburn Oils Limited's purchase of one quarter; $607,100 for Atlantic Oil company's purchase of one quarter; and $125,117 for Polaris Oil's purchase of a quarter in the north west tip of the field. The three companies are Pacific associates.

Pacific bought 160 acres in the south east part of the Redwater field for $337,109.

Tulsa, Oklahoma, oil firm, C. L. McMahon Inc. was the only American company to enter a successful million-dollar bid. The company bought 160 acre lease in the north west tip of the field for $1,011,701.

Texaco Exploration company, associate of McColl Frontenac, paid $801,000 for a quarter section in the Simmons sector, and $320,000 for 160 acres in the tip of the field.

A California company, Bishop Oil company, making its first bid on Alberta oil lands, purchased a quarter section in the Redwater tip for $347,113.

BIGGEST WILDCATTER

Former chairman of the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Company, A. G. Bailey of Calgary was biggest bidder for wildcatting leases.

His company bought two quarter-sections at Craigmyle in the eastern central part of the province, paying $171,680 for one and $205,760 for the other.

Husky Oil and Refining Company which operates the Lloydminster refinery bought 16 quarters about 31 miles southwest of the Stettler field. Prices paid by the company varied from $1,691 to $8,027.

Another big buyer was Paul A Rothwell of Calgary. He paid $3,030 for one quarter, $7,780 for another, $5,624 each for two others $2,886 for another two and $2,360 for seventh parcel, all located about 25 miles north of the Stettler field

$162,610 PURCHASE

A quarter section 36 miles north west of the Stettler field was bought by Ellsworth Wood of Edmonton, representing an Alberta and eastern Canadian syndicate, for $162,610.

British American oil bought one parcel north of Stettler for $2,001; and M. E. Kennedy paid $2,464 and $1,749 for parcels south west of Stettler.

Four quarter-sections about 15 miles north west of the proven boundary of the Redwater field and also turned brought a total price of $23,354.

Pacific Petroleum bought three of the leases at $5,101 each, and Anglo Canadian Oil Company bought the fourth at $8,051.

The government rejected bids on one quarter-section lease in the Redwater field, and also turned down bids on 14 wildcat parcels.

Increased Tax Fear Dispelled

From Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Feb. 17—Stories of the possibility of the U.S. placing a new import tax on imported crude or other oils to the extent of $1.05 per barrel need not worry western Canadian operators for the present, if at all.

True enough a move to increase the tax from the present 10½ cents a barrel to the higher figure has been initiated in Congress by the presentation of a private bill by a Democratic member.

But the bill has been sidetracked for the present and it may never come forward at all. It may never receive the endorsement of the membership.

HURT INDUSTRY?

Fears had been expressed the move might "cripple the growing western Canadian oil industry." These were based on the supposition the eventual aim of that industry was supply of crude to U.S. centres.

Ultimate aim undoubtedly is that, but only as part of reciprocal exchange facilitating the move of oil from the two countries to those points nearest sources of supply in both.

So Canada, if it were pressed and inhibited by unfavorable tariff reactions in the U.S. would have a ready weapon of retort not to be overlooked in any consideration of the question.

MP Calls on U.S. To Solve Problems

Speech From Throne Seconder Calls For Early Adjustment

By Ronald A. Nickerson
Special to the Bulletin

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(BUP)—The United States holds the trump card needed to bring peace, solve the world's trade problems and restore Britain and western Europe to strength, Fred Larson (Lab.-Kindersley) said today.

The solution, he said, lay in the U.S. making dollars freely interchangeable with pounds sterling and in lowering her tariff barriers. The sooner that was done, he added, the faster all nations would achieve economic and social stability.

Larson, moving the traditional address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, said:

"The western nations of Europe are making great strides toward economic recovery, but this recovery can never be completed until currencies can be freely exchanged on the world markets.

"I am very much afraid if this is not accomplished shortly the economic result will have a disastrous effect on the strength of the Atlantic Pact.

CALLS ON U.S.

"Since the U.S. must take the lead in this move, I earnestly appeal, and I know it is with the concurrence of the government, that she make a most diligent attempt to correct this difficulty."

The U.S. must make it possible for freer entry of Canadian, European and other sterling area goods, he said.

"I would not venture to advocate the reduction of tariff and other trade barriers as any special favor to us," he said. "But it does seem to me that such a policy would make a tremendous contribution to the security of the free world generally and the United States in particular."

ADJUSTMENT NECESSARY

"The greatest assurance of peace lies in a high level of international trade," Larson added. " . . . The adjustment (by the U.S.) is necessary and must be made soon."

On the domestic front, the Saskatchewan MP sounded a note of warning to labor leaders.

Because they had become "so powerful," he said, they should now act like statesmen "with the welfare of the entire nation their responsibility." They should tell their union members there was no longer any need of a struggle for equality, he added.

OTHER POINTS

Larson also:

Urged that the government evolve an over-all social security scheme, embracing all types of benefits;

Suggested that large numbers of unemployed workers could be moved from the cities to smaller centres, where labor shortages existed, to relieve unemployment;

Hoped that the government would guarantee farmers of continuing support prices and controlled open markets.

Cody Not Able To Attend Dinner

Word has been received by Bishop W. F. Barfoot that Canon H. J. Cody, of Toronto, scheduled as guest speaker at the Church of England diocesan laymen's dinner, will be unable to attend the Edmonton celebration because of illness.

His place will be taken by Bishop of Athabasca, Rt. Rev. A. H. Sovereign, D.D., at the Tuesday dinner.

Canada had 26,335 deaths from diabetes in the years 1931-1945.

Calgary Re-Assured Height Not Deadly

Exclusive to The Bulletin
CALGARY, Feb. 17.—(BUP)—Calgarians—who live in the city of highest elevation in Canada were given some re-assurance today: Altitude has nothing to do with high blood pressures.

Dr. J. V. Follett told Renfrew Club that altitude has little effect on high blood p...ssure sufferers, and does not cause it. People are sent to B.C.'s coast when they have high blood pressure not because of the Calgary altitude, but because they should have a change of environment.

Follett says medical men think emotions are the main cause of high blood pressure. At the same time, he warned that those who smoke, eat or drink to excess are very apt to get the high pressures.

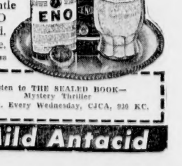

In Berkley, Calif., two doctors reported in today's Journal of Science that in the blood of 101 out of 104 persons who had attacks of coronary thrombosis, a frequent result of arterial hardening, they had found three kinds of giant molecules which were either scarce or lacking in the blood of normal people. The research may help lead to specific test, said Dr. John W. Gofman.

STUDYING SOUND and the effect of vacuum on sound are Ken Innes, Catherine Brown and Robert Newton, grade 7A of Garneau school. Studies are part of new cycle system being tested in some Alberta schools.

Educators Are Watching Cycle System of Studies

Educators are watching an experiment being conducted in Alberta schools.

Causing the attention is a method of teaching known as the "cycle-theory" and being acclaimed by teachers and pupils alike.

Being tested by 50 teachers in classrooms in Alberta the theory is being applied at present to the science course.

TAUGHT AS EXPERIMENT

In Edmonton 11 teachers instructing grade seven to nine classes are using the "interim" course evolved by the provincial department of education now and new being taught on an experimental basis.

M. Allen, high school teacher at Rutherford School, showed The Bulletin the new teaching method yesterday with one of his grade seven classes.

The pupils were studying geology and how it plays a part in their lives.

Students were huddled over a table, testing chips of rock for lime and discussing problems.

"The new course, which is in effect only for 1949-50 on a trial basis, has an entirely different outlook on teaching," explained Mr. Allen.

He said that work was taken in a "cycle" and that no particular amount of work was set out for the student to complete in a school year.

"In other words the teacher uses his own judgment as to how much or how little a class should do in a year in any given subject," he said.

Teachers will report to the Education Department at the end of the year.

Basis of the new theory is that the course should be environmental and preparatory as well as functional. It should carry over into the lives of the students now and later as adults.

Two other high school science classes visited by the Bulletin yesterday showed enthusiasm over the new techniques.

Science educator Ken Tookey of Garneau High School, while showing how his class now worked on effects of sound, said "the students benefit more by the new type of teaching."

However, he adjuitted that the method was more difficult for the teacher to put over and that little was offered in the way of textbooks.

W. Kostash, of McKay School, said the pupils now conduct experiments, make observations and "this is not so cut and dried as the old method of teaching," he said.

BUILDING INSPECTOR PROBABLY WAS BUSY

City comptroller's office workers today spent arduous hours chipping heavy accumulations of ice off their Civic Block windows.

Tracing the source, it was found that water was pouring down the wall from a leaking water valve in an upstairs office— the office of the city building inspector.

Early Tender Bid On New Clubhouse

Tenders will be called soon for the lavish club house planned to make Edmonton's new golf course one of the finest in western Canada, Parks Superintendent A. C. Patterson said today.

Blakey and Blakey, architects, are now drawing plans for the long one-storey clubhouse to embody "the full treatment" in facilities and appearance, he said.

ON BUS ROUTE

The structure, to cost an estimated $65,000, will be erected at the northeast end of Dawson Creek bridge, readily accessible to existing bus route. The course will extend east and north along the river flats.

It will have either log or siding exterior, with logs favored in present plans, subject to cost factors.

It will face north, with a "pro" shop in the east end, facilities for club storage separate from a large dressing room with lockers and a full-length verandah.

Former Boxer Now Champion Pianist

A little man with the big name of Samson arrived in town today.

At "one hundred seex" pounds, French pianist Samson Francois will cause little excitement in weight lifting circles, but he has caused a sensation among music lovers who have called him one of rising geniuses of the piano.

In spite of his size, he has Samson-like power when seated at the big concert grand, his admirers rave.

His vigor may also be due in part to his athletic training which included both boxing and tennis, he told interviewers today.

On his first Canadian tour, he plays tonight in McDougall church.

Widows Group Officers Re-elected

All officers of the Dominion Soldiers Un-pensioned Widows' Association were returned to office at the annual dinner meet of the association Monday at 10306-122 street. Re-elected were; Mrs. G. Redfearn, president; Mrs. D. Milner, vice-president; Mrs. J. Spalding, treasurer and Mrs. E. J. Scott, secretary.

Representatives of the Dominion council of the association will meet in Ottawa this spring to formulate plans for action on the supplementary grants-legislation, it was announced.

Liquor At Dances, Three Penalized

Three Edmonton men were fined $25 and costs each in police court this morning as an aftermath of city police visits to a South Side dance hall last week-end.

The men, William Dankowich, Matthew Kolba and William Sholak pleaded guilty to separate charges of illegal possession of liquor.

Police said Dankowich had been arrested in the dance hall with a partly-consumed bottle of rum on his person. The other two had been picked up from parked cars near the hall, they testified.

"More people are taking liquor to dances," Magistrate A. I. Millar observed. "It's got to stop. Drinking around dance halls causes too much trouble."

Fair Board Chiefs Meet Over Rate Cancellation

Special meeting of managers of Western Canada Fairs may be held in Saskatoon on Feb. 25 to deal with the cancellation Wednesday of special freight rates on livestock for exhibits.

Manager James Paul of Edmonton Exhibition Association said that fair associations will likely appeal for federal assistance for exhibitors shipping stock to annual fairs.

Under the new rates, exhibitors will pay two and one-half times more than they paid in 1948.

Mr. Paul recently predicted that heavy increase in the rates will reduce exhibition entries of livestock to the level of regional country fairs.

Quebec Premier Duplessis' suggestion for the next Dominion-provincial constitution conference to be held in Quebec city drew a reply from Alberta Premier E. C. Manning today. "There are just as many reasons for holding the conference in Edmonton as in Quebec city," he commented. He thought Ottawa would be selected.

SETTLEMENT IS FORESEEN

Hope for a quick settlement in strike-bound Calgary beer parlors was seen today by Carl Berg, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Mr. Berg will leave for Calgary tomorrow to join provincial TLC executive member Joe Cherrington.

Housing Plan Not Accepted

Rumor that Alberta will participate in the federal government's new lower down-payment housing scheme was denied today by Premier E. C. Manning.

Mr. Manning re-iterated a decision made by the Social Credit caucus last November that "the federal scheme has too many disadvantages and not enough advantages" for participation by provincial authorities.

British Columbia, Manitoba, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have indicated willingness to accept the federal proposals.

The Ottawa authorities propose to have 75 per cent of loans guaranteed by the Dominion and the remainder guaranteed by the provinces. Down payments would likely be reduced.

Albertan Visits Sydney Meeting

Alberta will be represented at an International Conference on Industrial Diseases in Sydney, Australia from Feb. 28 to March 11.

Attending will be Dr. G. R. Davison, Edmonton, member of the Alberta Health Department. Two other delegates from Ottawa and Vancouver will represent the Dominion.

In Edmonton today Dr. Davison said that the conference will discuss diseases caused by flying dust in industries.

Dr. Davison said findings of the conference will be of great value to Alberta since it might cut down sickness and death in the province's coal mining industry.

Line Work Will Leave Rough Area

Essential Jobs May Result In Untidy Streets

At least 23 miles of city streets and lanes can be expected to emerge from the spring thaw in "pretty poor shape" as a result of essential winter duct-laying activities, City Engineer J. D. A. Macdonald said today.

Work is now under way on nine miles of underground telephone ducts, seven miles of new sewer mains, and seven miles of water mains, in all parts of the city.

It is of such a nature that it must be done during winter months, Mr. Macdonald said.

Six crews are engaged in the sewer work alone.

Streets and lanes torn up will not start to settle again until after the spring thaw, and it will be some months before they return to normal again, said Mr. Macdonald.

CITY'S NEW CREST WILL SOON APPEAR

Engravings of Edmonton's new crest have been received by city officials and will be used on all advertising matter and all city stationery.

The shield bears a winged wheel, representing industry, a wavy blue line representing the river, and a gold sheaf representative of agriculture. Scroll carries the words, "Industry, Energy, Progress."

Safety Council's Work To Increase This Year

A boom year for safety council work was foreseen today by Howard Stutchbury, manager of the Edmonton Safety Council.

Last year, Mr. Stutchbury said, five new branches were opened in Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Drumheller, Red Deer and Camrose.

"The provincial government has aided us greatly with generous grants for organizational purposes," said Mr. Stutchbury. He added that the cabinet was vitally interested in the movement.

There was a report that a large grant may be given the council by legislature this year, but this was not verified in official circles.

Oil Sands Plant Decision Not Made

The Alberta government has reached no decision in regard to 1950 operation of the oil sands pilot plant at Bituminot in northern Alberta, Hon. Dr. J. L. Robinson said today.

Dr. Robinson said the government is giving consideration to the question of economics of production, transportation and marketing of petroleum products which can be produced from bituminous sands.

Jail Term Is Imposed Over Drugs

A self-described drug addict "until I quit in 1942," James Mitchell, Edmonton workman, was sentenced to two years in Prince Albert penitentiary today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of having a drug, methadon, in his possession.

A fine of $200 or, in default, an additional three months imprisonment, was also imposed by magistrate A. I. Millar.

A similar charge against Mitchell's woman companion was withdrawn.

Mitchell was arrested last night in a downtown rooming house by Cpl. Herb Silver, head of the RCMP narcotics squad in Alberta, and city police detectives J. B. Arial and Stan Hooper.

Cpl. Silver told the court that Mitchell had obtained prescription Mitchell had obtained prescriptions for the drug from a number of city doctors by giving fictitious names, addresses and places of employment. Sometimes, the detective said, the woman companion had the prescription filled.

East Needs Alberta Coal

Alberta has a coal reserve of at least 46,000,000,000 tons. Eastern Canada has a desperate need for that coal.

And yet Alberta's coal moves eastward only in a small trickle because railway freight rates do not permit it to be carried economically to the largest markets.

In the face of this situation, the railways in general and the CPR specifically ask that freight rates on coal "should be allowed to find their own level."

When a freight rate is allowed to find its own level it means that the carriers are allowed to charge every last cent the traffic can bear.

To follow this policy in the case of Alberta coal would be an economic calamity because the West suffers through inability to sell it just as the East suffers through inability to buy it.

This railway policy has been applied to other commodities. As it works out, the railways have cut their rates in Eastern Canada where there is competition from lake shipping and increased the rates in the Canadian Middle West, where there is no such competition, to balance the losses they take on eastern traffic.

Similarly, under that policy, they have reduced the rates from the East to Vancouver because of the competition offered by the cheap water haul through the Panama Canal and have boosted the rates from the East to the prairies until it is more expensive, in some instances, to ship from Toronto to Edmonton than it is to ship from Toronto to Vancouver via Edmonton.

Suppose, for example, the rate on a certain commodity from Toronto to Edmonton is $4 per 100 pounds and $3 from Toronto to Vancouver, which is just about the ratio on many items.

If the $4 rate to Edmonton is just and reasonable, then the railway loses money on the rate to Vancouver and should decline that business. But if the rate to Vancouver is fair, the rate to Edmonton is exorbitant.

The fact is that Edmonton and Alberta consumers are paying through the nose to maintain a low living cost in Vancouver.

If Alberta is paying to subsidize low living costs in Vancouver, somebody else should pay to subsidize the cost of moving Alberta coal to Ontario.

Alberta should not be expected to meet all the freight rate deficits.

But if the cost of hauling coal to Ontario were allowed to "find its own level," that is exactly what Alberta would be doing.

The railways maintain that the cost of hauling this coal in 1933 was $12.70 per ton. At that time an emergency rate of $8 was set up and that rate has since been increased by 33 cents. The government pays $2.50 per ton subvention out of the $8.33 rate.

If the hauling operation cost $12.70 a ton in 1933, it probably costs around $15.00 a ton today.

And if rates were allowed to find their own level, the railways would get $15 a ton and not a pound of coal would move eastward.

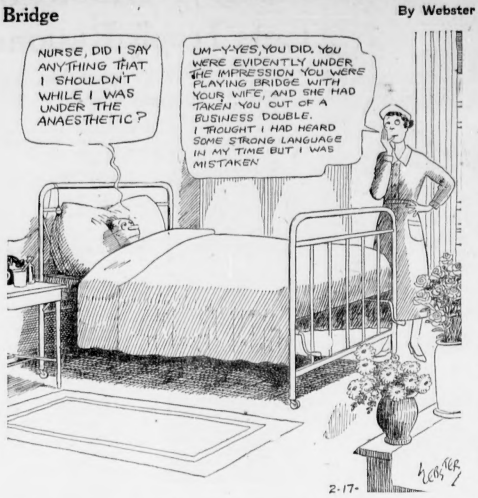

As it is, the rate on coal is almost prohibitive. If the rate were increased, it would be more than prohibitive.

Surely enough excessive freight charges are already levied against this province to make up for losses elsewhere.

If the railways lose money on moving Alberta coal eastward, let them recover that loss elsewhere for a change.

Mind Always Blank In Best Murders

The cliches of murder, as they are invariably presented in courtrooms, would be almost amusing if tragedies were not forever involved. By that I mean the corpus delectable doesn't laugh, and even the killer is apt to feel uncomfortable for a spell.

Occasionally I have yearned to be a lawyer, if only to develop a flock of new defences for clients who get caught with the body on the floor and the gun in the fist.

Take a hinge at the new one from Minnesota. "A 23-year-old brunette insisted today that playboy So-and-so, 36-year-old married lawyer, who was shot fatally yesterday as they struggled for possession of the gun, was the father of her expected child."

Struggle Wildly

Miss Blank, it went on, had not yet been given a pregnancy test, her lawyer said. "We are waiting until her mind clears up to question her further," he said. It also says that Miss Blank fled from the defunct duck's office shortly after the shooting, crying in anguished tones: "My honey! My honey!" It says only two shots were fired (while they struggled for the gun) one of which went wild, the other bulls-eyeing the dude's heart.

All my life in this business I have been sitting in on stories in which the stiff got it as they struggled wildly for the gun; where everything went black and the attorneys had to wait for the mind to clear up; where the first shot went wild and the second one hit; where the dame did it because she was caught with a woods' colt; where she wept over the corpse and said, quote, "My honey, my darling, what have I done?" In these cases the bloke on the floor is always described as a playboy.

Always Playboy

I am told how total amnesia smothers the client as soon as the smoke curls from the barrel of the Smith & Wesson; it is peculiar that they always struggle for the gun; it is mandatory that they are always sorry for the deceased and aloha him to heaven with the phrase, my darling," and it is odd how the lawyers always wait for the mind to clear, thereby establishing temporary insanity. Heaven endow that temporary insanity with permanence. You never know when you'll need it.

As soon as you call a chilled lover a playboy, you have cinched the defence, and if you can locate him on a yacht or tie him to a series of flamboyant affairs, the defendant is as good as out and hired by a burlesque wheel. In the annals of crime a playboy inspires no sympathy, possibly because the jury, afflicted with economic problems and nagging wives, is jealous of any gent who can qualify for the title.

Somehow, too, in the curious heads of citizens who are forced to sit in judgment at murder trials, the fact that the babe loved the boy, minimizes the sin of speeding him to the harp-counterty. This is especially true of juries with women aboard, and the legal eagles all know it and trade on it.

Total Amnesia

I have watched a few score defendants in the dock, with the dress demurely off the knee and a plunging neckline for the prosecutor to inspect, and they always give you that everything went black-as-we-struggled-for-the-gun routine. The truth is that people who go around with loaded guns generally intend to employ same for a definite purpose, such as shooting people they don't like, but it rarely comes out that way in court. Total amnesia is the rule.

Poisoners and club-murderers have a harder row to hoe, since it is difficult to struggle over a vial of strychnine, and a club is such a blunt instrument. You can't stand up and tell the court that you slipped him a jolt of cyanide because you loved him, nor can you holler "My honey!" off when you just knocked off the ton of his head with a poker.

There is no doubt that the contested pistol is the ideal weapon in these cases, but golly-ned, you get tired of the same old song. If I am a juror I might very well be inclined to vote in favor of a dame who said quietly that she didn't like the bum, came to call on him for the express purpose of shooting him and hit him square with the first volley. It would be a switch, anyhow.

What About Lower Garbage Trucks?

The bylaws committee of the city council will discuss the new garbage bylaw next Thursday, says Commissioner D. B. Menzies, who points out that the two-months' delay in this matter, of which The Bulletin has complained, has been due to a lengthy consideration of policy.

In the first place, the commissioners have been wondering if they should buy up a wholesale quantity of smaller garbage cans and sell them to the citizens at cost.

In the second place, they have been giving careful consideration to the use of 75-pound maximum weight cans which the new bylaw makes necessary.

In regard to the first item, the city should keep out of the hardware business. Edmonton has not gone socialistic yet.

In regard to the second item, Edmonton householders to understand that the administration has taken two months to study the problem of smaller garbage cans without the alternative suggestion of lower garbage trucks?

It is admitted that some of the cans in use in Edmonton are gargantuan affairs which require exhausting efforts to lift into the trucks now employed for the purpose.

But much lower trucks are made. Thousands of them are in use in other cities.

And the height any object must be lifted is just as much a factor in the energy required to lift it as the weight of the object itself.

It is probably true that smaller garbage cans are used in many other cities.

But it is also true that the nature of the fuel used in many of those cities permits a great deal of garbage to be privately incinerated.

Much waste matter, for instance, can be destroyed in the old-fashioned coal and wood stoves or in coal furnaces.

In Edmonton the prevailing gas furnace cannot perform this function.

As a result Edmonton has more garbage, relatively, than other cities where other types of stoves and furnaces are used.

Sunday Construction is Unnecessary

When the Edmonton Building and Constructors' Trade Council protests against construction work proceeding on Sundays it takes a logical and commendable stand.

No building project is so urgent that special permission should be granted for Sunday labor.

There has been a widespread expression of opinion in Edmonton against any relaxation of the law governing Sunday sports and other activities.

Obviously the general public holds to the view that while nobody wants to be bigoted about Sunday amusements and recreation, there is no demand whatever for what has been called the "American Sunday."

And yet to operate construction projects on Sundays is a much graver breach of the spirit of the Canadian Sunday than any Sunday sport charging admission, could possibly be.

CBC Offers Explanation

Having regard to the facts, I must take exception to your editorial of February 8th, entitled "Extraordinary View of the CBC" which attacked the corporation for permitting a 'CBC employe, one L. Sinclair" to riscuss the status of Canadian business men on the air. A further possible inference was that the speaker's remarks reflected a view of the CBC.

The facts are quite otherwise.

Mr. Sinclair is not a member of the CBC staff. He is a Canadian playwright, actor, and free-lance broadcaster. He was invited to appear on the Citizens Forum of January 26th, along with Mr. Blair Fraser, Ottawa editor of MacLean's Magazine; Miss Agnes MacPhail, member of the Ontario Legislature, and Canada's first woman MP; and Mr. Roger Ouimet, well known Montreal barrister. These four people, working independently, compiled their own lists, of the six greatest Canadians of the twentieth century, and then on the broadcast they were asked to discuss and defend their individual choices. Mr. Sinclair was allowed exactly the same freedom of expression as the other participants.

The policy of the CBC is to allow the fullest opportunity for the free expression of varying points of view, subject only to a few very obvious regulations. Citizens' Forum broadcasts are arranged by the CBC in co-operation with the Canadian Association for Adult Education. The panels of speakers are chosen carefully but impartially from all walks of life, to provide a well balanced frank and lively discussion. In so doing the CBC does not support any particular opinion itself. It is the view of the CBC that free speech and the full interchange of opinion are among the principal safeguards of free and democratic institutions.

Surely this is not an extraordinary view!

Shock to Christians

Editor, Bulletin.—In answer to "Subscribers" letter, it is a sad state of the world today when people take the attitude of "Sin as you like, God will understand and forgive."

There is a great difference between sins of frailty or ignorance and deliberate premeditated sin. "Judge not and you shall not be judged." Yes. And in this case we should leave Bergman and Rossellini to God and pray for them that God may give them the grace of repentance. But for 5,000 people in the United States to congratulate them on their sin and send flowers (the handiwork of God's beautiful creation) to express deeper their sentiment is a shock to Christians and God-fearing people.

Can Still Back Out

Editor, Bulletin — I believe I can speak for most of the Calgary boxing fans, that Edmonton's pride and joy or has-been fighter, Benny Geary will wish he never challenged Jimmy Nolan for the main event fight in Calgary on Thursday night, Geary has lost the Western Canada Welterweight title permanently now that Nolan owns it. Geary wouldn't be able to go even six rounds for he is too old.

He shouldn't even be seen in the same ring as Jimmy cause the Calgarian doesn't want to take advantage of an old man.

Benny, your smart if you stay away from Nolan Thursday night, you can still back out of the fight if you're scared of getting hurt.

Government Reconsider

Editor, Bulletin—Is it too late for the many friends of CKUA to rescue their favorite radio station, about to be silenced for ever by the provincial government, since from a purely business point of view it is not a good proposition.

It's our opinion that CKUA contributes a great deal to the cultural life of this province and we deplore the loss of the excellent musical programs and informative material relayed by this station, uninterrupted as it is by the blaring of high-powered commercial rattletrap, which unfortunately is the daily fare on other wavelengths.

Cannot Alberta with all its riches raise the necessary funds to maintain CKUA at 580 on our dials and continue to bring its enlighting voice into our homes.

We do earnestly ask that the government reconsider its decision.

Historical Information

Editor, Bulletin—This is an appeal for help to historians, oldtimers and anyone else in your area who recalls the period of 1900-1905 when the confederation issue was paramount in the West.

I am writing a series of articles, which may eventually be published in book form, dealing with various historical developments in Canada and am particularly interested in the North-West Territories problem.

I have the constitutional and factual background well documented but am anxious to get personal descriptions of the men involved, anecdotes which reveal their character and any sort of incidental background information. Very little seems to have been written about such men as Sir Frederick Haultain, Walter Scott, Frank Oliver and others who played a key part in the drama. Any piece of information, no matter how trivial or irrelevant it may seem would be most welcome. I promise to acknowledge all communications promptly.

THE QUESTION: Do you think mercy killing should be legalized?

THE ANSWERS:

J. W. Martin, beverage distributor, Tofield: Mercy killing should not be legalized. On the other hand, I think that in many cases such action is justified.

L. O. Sandborn, nurse, Tofield: I approve of mercy killing provided there is no possible cure for a hopelessly ill person. If investigation proved that this was the case, I think the person responsible should not be held to account.

O. K. Deare, railway agent, Tofield: We should not take life from any human being that which we can not give. I do not think mercy killings should be legalized.

Vivian Lawson, drug clerk, Tofield: I do not think that mercy killing is equivalent to murder, but I do believe that a severe penalty should be given to anyone who commits such a crime.

Mrs. E. Rose, housewife, Tofield: I think mercy killing is a crime equal in proportion and justly charged as murder. It should never be legalized.

National Pension Plan For Everyone

While most of the people of Canada favor a sound, all-inclusive pension scheme, wily politicians are thinking of something else.

In the provincial legislature and the national parliament schemers are getting ready to wangle a scheme to pay themselves fat pensions.

The ordinary person might think these politicians already had about the cushiest old man's home in the world. But no, the Canadian Senate, with its $6000 per year, practically no work, plus a free railroad pass and travelling allowance, apparently is not enough!

Instead of concentrating on a plan to benefit everybody—the butcher, the baker, candlestick maker, preacher, lawyer, beggar, thief, farmer, city man and everybody else—these politicians say "let's get ours."

Short Sight

These scheming politicians seem to me as selfish and shortsighted as the trades union leaders who are bringing on strikes for such unsound, unwise goals as pensions of $100 per month at age 65.

I am not criticizing the $100 figure nor the age of eligibility—that is 65. But I am criticizing the idea of small groups of labor men going after such pensions on a bits-and-pieces basis instead of uniting behind the move for a national scheme.

What good is a theoretical $100 per month pension at age 65 when depressions throw men out of a job on the average of once every ten years—or oftener?

Have these shortsighted labor leaders never heard of the trick played by some corpoactions, which have long had such "pension schemes"?

The man or woman works for 10, 20 or even 30 years. But a few years before the pension starts they are "let out" on some pretext. The corporation can live up to the letter of the promise—yet dodge its fulfillment.

Future Payment

Also, if strikes occur, the men's claim to future pensions is endangered.

Before more trade unions tump into the scramble for bits-and-pieces, piecemeal pensions, they should investigate what happened in the old Grand Trunk strike. My recollection is that the vast majority of railroad men lost all right to pensions because they went on strike. The tiny handful of men (strike leaders) who did not go out got an extra big slice!

A pension fund which is based on continuous employment in the same company till age 65 is a sound advantage in the great majority of workmen.

We need a pension scheme in Canada which would, apply to every person in the country.

Everybody should pay into this pension fund — through general taxes or deductions from wages. The present average $2000 should pay in five times as much as the one earning $1000.

And at age 65 every man and woman in Canada should be entitled to a pension of $80 per month for life — without means test of any kind.

A storm of protest has broken out against the advisory council of the north west government. At first it was thought that members of the majority in the assembly would be represented in this council but by now it is clear beyond any doubt that only the minority will have any say in this matter. This is an insult to the people of the north west that cannot be tolerated.

Trivia

A 450-mile pipeline, the longest in Canada, is being constructed to carry Alberta oil from Edmonton to Regina at a cost estimated between $35,000,000 and $40,000,000. It is expected to be completed in 1950.

Gross revenues of Canadian telegraph and cable companies in 1948 were $19,425,000, highest in history. Due to wage increases and higher costs of materials the companies lost $870,000 during the year.

Little Incidents Reveal Civilization's State Best

A fortnight ago, you may but probably don't remember, I ran a list of the cultural odds-and-ends I would like to see sealed up in a permanent time capsule for the benefit of the folks a hundred years from now.

This column got quite a reaction from my ever-lovin' and ever-writin' readers — bless their little pens and portables — and their suggestions for additions to my list included, among other things, an aerial view of Stromboli, one of Marie Wilson's sweaters and a sound track of Margaret Truman's debut.

If you ask me, the most revealing things about our way of life are not the ones that get written up on page one — they're the one-paragraph stories that appear on newspapers on the page next to the funnies or under the crossword puzzles. And to give you an idea of what I mean, I'm inclosing a few I've clipped out of the papers from time to time . . ."

Hungry North Army Gets Tropic Rations

Proper Food Designed But Not Given, Surprised Observers Say

The following dispatch was written from the "Front" by BUP staff correspondent Noel Mostert, the only reporter actually to accompany "Sweetbriar" forces on their simulated battle march.

Exclusive to the Bulletin

WITH DEFENDING FORCE IN THE YUKON, Feb. 17.—(BUP)—Exercise Sweetbriar's initial and most crucial manoeuvre showed up several defects in the training, equipment and rations of Canada's Arctic troops, observers said today.

Outstanding were a lack of substantial food and means of feeding men working almost 24 hours a day in temperatures around 30 degrees below zero.

These conclusions followed a three-day spell in the front line with the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. They spearheaded a thrust against the so-called northern invader, troops who theoretically were trying to take over Canada by descending from the Arctic.

UNSUITABLE, GOOD FOOD

The regiment was issued American-type rations, manufactured and packaged in Chicago and which were normal South Pacific issue during the war.

The quality of the food was excellent, but there was not nearly enough to build resistance against the extreme cold of these regions.

Dizziness and nausea resulted among some of the troops.

In addition, during the long trek northward along the Alaska highway from Whitehorse, Y.T., meals were few and far between. The gap on one occasion was as long as 13 hours.

Top Canadian military observers who had been briefed before this exercise that eating well was the basis of survival in the north, were surprised at the absence of Arctic-designed rations.

They said such items had been designed and were in constant use at the northern testing station of Churchill, Man. None however could offer an explanation for them not being used on Sweetbriar.

Quebec Also Is On The March

QUEBEC, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Hon. Gerald Martineau told Quebec legislative council that Quebec province is in the midst of an era of "development without precedent."

"The extraordinary natural resources of our vast territory are only now being revealed to us. New Quebec is surging ahead. All its potentialities are open to intensive development."

World Trade Seen Worse; Efforts Fail

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 17.—(CP)—United Nations economists reported last night that the world trade situation became worse in 1949 and that all efforts to make it balance failed.

In the light of this, they suggested a complete re-evaluation of world economic policies and programs. This presumably would include the European Recovery Program, although the economists did not say so specifically.

The suggestion was submitted to the 18-member economic and social council in a 101-page survey of major economic changes in 1949. The survey was prepared by experts in the UN secretariat.

The space devoted to the world trade situation indicated the economists regarded this as the No. 1 economic problem. They also reported that world production continued to increase and that employment remained at a high level, although it dropped slightly.

MAJOR FACTOR

The drop of imports into the United States was cited as the major immediate factor crippling the dollar-short world.

The experts said that to bring improvement in world trade, the United States would have to continue large-scale aid, such as E.R.P., increase imports or decrease exports. All might be needed.

In Canada, the experts found the pressure of inflation had subsided, with some increase in real wages. But Canada also experienced some difficulty in finding outside markets for some surplus commodities including wood products. She could expect the same for wheat.

Strachey 'Very Proud' Of Good Wheat Deal

DUNDEE, Scotland, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Food Minister John Strachey, addressing an election meeting here last night denied that Britain had paid "exorbitant" prices for Canadian wheat.

An elderly man in the audience had asked him, "Why have dollar countries been given preference over wheat deals at a higher cost?" He said Australia had been refused a deal although "she keeps offering wheat at lower prices."

Strachey replied: "We do not pay exorbitant prices; they are fair."

The food minister said he was proud of the long-term wheat deal he made with the Canadian government nearly four years ago.

"Canada is a dominion as well as Australia and also a part of the British Commonwealth. We buy not all, but a big part of our wheat from Canada. We bought 160,000,000 bushels in the first two years and 140,000,000 in the last two.

"In the first two years we paid $1.55, in the last two $2. The open-market price at that time was more than $2, much of the time $2.50 and some of the time more than $3."

Strachey added that "until the contract runs out Aug. 1, we are bound to buy Canadian wheat at $2 a bushel."

SPLIT VOTE SEEN

Increasing confidence among Conservatives led to predictions today that the Feb. 23 general election may be only the beginning of a long political struggle.

A considerable body of opinion holds that Labor and Conservatives are so evenly matched that neither party will get a working majority in next Thursday's vote. If so, another election probably would be inevitable.

"There is bound to be a second election this year," editor Frank Owen of the Conservative Daily Mail today told a luncheon gathering of Commonwealth correspondents.

Russ-U.S. Science Equal, U.K. Physicist Declares

By Robert Musel
Exclusive to the Bulletin

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(BUP)—One of the few westerners ever permitted to see Soviet science at work said today that Russia probably could run a dead heat with the United States in a race for the hydrogen bomb "if she considers it important enough."

Prof. J. D. Bernal, head of the physics department of Birkbeck College spent August and September in Russia.

He had been impressed by the number of qualified men the Russians could assign to any given scientific problem, he said.

Asked the general question, "Is Soviet science equipped to solve a massive problem, such as the hydrogen bomb, at the same speed as the United States?" Bernal replied:

"Most certainly, if they consider it important enough," he replied. "And I think they would consider such a matter important."

He said the problem of the hydrogen bomb was simpler in some respects than the solution of the original uranium bomb because the complicated procedures for obtaining the explosive material were not required.

NO GREAT DIFFICULTY

He suggested that through ability to direct scientists in mass, Russia could expect to make the same phenomenal progress on the hydrogen bomb as was made on the atom bomb. In the latter project two or three years were cut from western estimates of the time needed.

In a widely discussed article the mass circulation magazine, Picture Post, said there were "no great difficulties" barring the way to the hydrogen bomb. It can "soon be a reality," the magazine said.

The article included a hydrogen bomb diagram prepared under supervision of atomic scientists. It said "experiments are known to be under way in Russia" while "advanced experiments" are being carried out in the United States.

Scientific Farmer Is World's Big Need

VANCOUVER, Feb. 17.—(CP)—The man behind the test tube, not the man behind the plow, describes the farmer who must step into "the narrow gap" and feed the world tomorrow.

Stressing the need for scientifically-trained farmers, Dr. Blythe Eagles, dean of agriculture of the University of British Columbia, told the annual meeting of B.C. Jersey breeders' association:

"Students must have the basic principles rather than the technical details; for the details change constantly.

"The next great step in improvement of dairy cattle may come from some scientist who has never even seen a cow."

GREAT PROBLEM

He said it was from those who were properly trained in the "experimental outlook" that the larger advances in agriculture will come.

Deploring the fact that many agriculture graduates in Canada go to the United States for further training and do not come back, Dr. Eagles said he would like to see establishment of complete post-graduate training in Canada.

"Next to the H-bomb, which might destroy civilization, the greatest human problem of today is how to feed the world's increasing population.

"There is only a narrow gap between supply and demand and it will take all the scientific knowledge we have to bridge it."

Polish Bishop Is Arrested

WARSAW, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The official Polish news agency disclosed today that Bishop Kazimierz Kowalski, Roman Catholic Bishop of Chelmo, had been placed under house arrest at his home in Pomerania.

The bishop, the agency said, was accused of using pressure and "all types of threats" against "patriotic priests" who supported the governments in its allegations of financial abuses in the church's largest welfare institution, caritas.

The Roman Catholic hierarchy ordered read in all churches last Sunday a pastoral letter announcing that caritas had ceased to be a church institution when it came under state control last month.

Joint Pension Group Sought

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(BUP)—A joint senate-commons committee on old age pensions was proposed today by Health Minister Paul Martin.

Martin suggested the committee be appointed to examine both federal and provincial old age security laws, as well as similar legislation in other countries.

According to Martin's motion placed on the house order paper, the committee should also study: "Possible alternative measures of old age security for Canada, with or without a means test for beneficiaries, including plans based on contributory insurance principles, the probable cost thereof, and possible methods of providing therefor."

Martin suggested that 28 members of the house of commons be named for the committee, and that the senate be invited to appoint members of the upper house to join with the commons on the inquiry.

1,000 Pickets To Walk Lines At South Hotels

CALGARY, Feb. 17.—(CP)—More than 1,000 pickets representing nearly every labor union in Calgary will walk the picket lines Saturday around 18 local hotels' beer parlors currently staffed by non-union waiters, union officials said today.

Striking members of the Beverage Dispensers' Union (AFL) continued to picket the beverage rooms today in spite of colder weather. Many wore parkas and ear-muffs.

The union men are on strike because the hotelmen refused to accept a recommendation of $2-a-week wage increase for the union members.

Briton Pleads Guilty To Hungary Spying

Special to the Bulletin

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Feb. 17.—(UP)—A British business man pleaded guilty to spy charges when he went on trial with an American associate, Robert E. Vogeler of New York, and five Hungarians today.

Edgar Sanders, Budapest manager for the International Telephone and Telegraph Company, implicated several members of the Anglo-American legations here in his plea on the first day of the trial of seven persons accused of spying for the United States and Great Britain.

U. S. AID CHARGED

Vogeler, American vice-president and Eastern European manager for the IT&T, was accused of spying in Hungary for eight years. He and his six co-defendants were alleged to have organized a spy ring with the help of an American army colonel, George Kovacs.

The first day of the trial in the red brick criminal court building in the heart of Budapest ended without Vogeler being summoned to make his plea.

Sanders and two Hungarians who preceded him before the court pleaded guilty to charges of spying for the United States and Great Britain. The Hungarians were Imre Geiger, manager of the I. T. & T.'s Hungarian subsidiary, and Zoltan Rado, a section chief in a government ministry.

The blonde, freckled, 44-year-old Sanders, a relative of film star George Sanders, answered "I do" to a firm, clear voice when Judge Vilmos Ilby asked him "do you feel guilty?"

Increased Assessment Keeps Mill Rate Down

INNISFAIL, Feb. 17—Innisfail's increased assessment made it possible for the council to provide many new services during 1949 with the rate one mill lower than in 1948, reports given at a ratepayers' meeting Monday showed.

Assessment is now in excess of the million dollar mark and will rate last year was: municipal 25½ mills, school 31 and hospital 2½.

SURPLUS FROM WATER

For the first time since the water works has been in operation the department of utilities showed a surplus of $865. Forty-two new services were installed including that of the hospital and one new well was added at a capital cost of $15,959.

Improvements made by the department of public works cost $11,577 and included rebuilding the elevator road, raising grades, opening new streets, and extending others.

Owing to increased cost there was a deficit of about $7,000. light requisition from the municipality and the town was suggested. A new superintendent is needed.

Railmen Set Strike Date

CLEVELAND, O., Feb.17.—(UP)—Two brotherhoods representing 250,000 railroad workers set Feb. 27 today as the date for a nation-wide strike.

In Chicago BRT sources said the strike would begin at 6 a.m. EST.

The date was announced in the Trainmen News, organ of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. President Truman now is expected to appoint an emergency board to investigate the dispute, which would postpone the strike for at least 30 days.

The other union involved is the order of railroad conductors.

The unions are seeking rule changes, including a 40-hour week without a reduction in pay for yardmen now working 48 hours.

Soviets Seize 17 Trucks

BERLIN, Feb. 17.—(UP)—American authorities announced today that 17 German trucks were confiscated or turned back and hundreds of others were delayed in the Soviet slowdown of Berlin traffic in the last week.

"Only the flimsiest pretexts served as excuses for the continuing flagrant violations of international agreements calling for normalization of goods traffic between Berlin and the western zones of Germany," a report of the high commission public safety office said.

400 ATTEND MEETING

Drumheller Electors Keeping Pot Boiling

DRUMHELLER, Feb. 17 — Charges by a body of electors that Drumheller did not require a city manager and that one of the councillors was ineligible for office due to non-payment of taxes, will be answered at a public meeting soon.

About 400 electors met Wednesday night in response to a meeting called by Mayor L. A. Bennett which was petitioned for by more than 60 taxpayers.

Duncan Robertson, city manager, now on holidays will be present at the proposed meeting along with members of the council and reports and records will be available for discussion and reference.

George Cope, who was notified Saturday that his term of office as license inspector would terminate March 15, proposed the resolutions and made the charge that a councillor was in arrears with his taxes. The charge was vehemently denied.

G. Powell, provincial welfare officer, was chairman during the meeting and Steve Goods, was secretary.

Other resolutions pertained to ash collections and garbage disposal, grading of lanes and minor matters of administration.

Petain Aide Asks Review

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Count Jacques de Bernonville has appealed to the federal government against an order of an immigration board which ordered him deported from Canada, the citizenship and immigration department said today.

The appeal will be considered by Citizenship Minister Harris.

De Bernonville fled France and entered Canada three years ago. Almost continually since he has been fighting deportation.

He has made his home in Montreal where he now lives with his wife and three daughters. He has earned a living by selling hospital supplies and X-ray equipment.

De Bernonville always maintained that all he did in France was to execute the orders of Marshal Petain, who now is in prison. He is a wide police powers under Petain.

A court in Toulouse, France, five years ago sentenced him in absentia to death.

EMOTIONAL drama of repressed, awkward girl who is courted by handsome man-about-town, "The Heiress," has been rated as sensational movie triumph. Starring Olivia de Havilland and Montgomery Clift, film is based on famous stage play. "The Heiress" starts today at Capitol Theatre.

Great Profile's Son at 17 Gets Laughs at Dad's Film

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
Exclusive to the Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(BBUP)—In a lot of ways, Profile, Jr., has much the same lot as other 17-year-olds.

But unlike other teen-agers, John Barrymore, Jr., was born to live in a glass house.

He has the Barrymore name to grow up to, and the kid is trying.

Although the boy is just beginning to sprout fuzz on his upper lip, he had the poise of a veteran. "I know I'm on a spot," he said.

J. B. Jr.'s mother, Dolores Costello, who made a name for herself in the silent movies, shuddered at the thought of her son following his father's trail. She tried to convince him that becoming a lawyer, or maybe a doctor like his stepfather, Dr. John Vrumink, would be just as exciting.

The younger listened for a time and deliberately refused roles in high school plays "because I didn't want to make a fool of myself."

But Barrymore, the younger, has the blood of the royal family of the stage in his veins, and blood is thicker than reason. He has just come out in his first picture called "The Sundowners."

WESTERN JUVENILE

It's nothing like the dramatic pictures for which his father was famous. It's a western and our kid plays the part of a juvenile.

John is under the thumb of a raw-boned old-timer from Texas, Chill Wills, who looks and talks like the late Will Rogers. Wills has one of the leads in the technicolor picture and it is he who shows the lad the way to the shower and toothbrush every morning.

Barrymore remembers seeing his father but once.

He was only three when John, Sr., and Miss Costello were divorced. His Dad dropped around the house one Christmas eve when the kid was sick and presented him with a large ship model. He still has it.

"I didn't know him when I answered the door," the young man said. "He stayed about 20 minutes."

Junior has seen only one of his Pop's pictures—a re-issue of "The Great Profile."

"I laughed so hard I got kicked out of the theatre," he said. "But I don't want to see any more for fear I will find myself imitating him."

Accidents cost an average of $700 per farm in Nebraska last year, for a total of about $100,000.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—It's still too early to determine whether Bing Crosby's sons will follow in their famed father's footsteps. That's from "Papa Croz" himself.

The groaner was noticeably proud of the singing debut of his oldest sprout, Gary. But he doesn't know whether Gary wants a career in show business.

"Right now he's more interested in football," said Bing of his husky first-born. I asked if Gary would be allowed to make records or accept any singing dates.

"No, he's got to finish college first," Bing answered. "That goes for all the boys."

ALL SING

Do the other three lads show talent? "Well, they sang around the house, just like Gary. But they seem more interested in playing right now."

He added that the boys will appear on his radio show once a year, but that will be the extent of their singing and acting careers until they graduate from college.

NO MORE "ROADS"

Bing will be kept pretty busy with picture making in the future. He has two or three films already lined up. I asked if one would be another "Road" picture with Bob Hope.

"I guess not," he answered. "The studio seems to think 'Road' pictures are too expensive."

The reasoning around Paramount seems to be: Why waste Hope and Crosby in the same picture when they can be making a picture apiece?

First Lady of Screen Stars in 'The Heiress'

A worthy candidate for an Academy Award is William Wyler's Paramount production, "The Heiress," starting today at the Capitol Theatre.

Adapted from the Broadway stage hit based on Henry James' novel, "Washington Square," the film has been acclaimed as an all-time great.

By co-starring the nation's number one lady of the screen, Olivia deHavilland, with the newest male heart-throb Montgomery Clift, a great performance was assured. Less important roles were all carefully and perfectly filled, led by the distinguished character actor Ralph Richardson.

Miss deHavilland in the title role gives one of her most brilliant characterizations as the shy, repressed girl who is courted by a handsome man-about-town. The story concerns her father's efforts to prove to her that Clift is attracted only by her money. When his threat to disinherit her if she marries him affects their romance, Olivia emerges as a different kind of person, capable of taking cruel revenge on both her father and her suitor.

Doubled Grain Rate Envisaged by CPR

Crow's Nest Pass Statute Is Subject of Big Wrangle

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Removal of the federal legislation holding down western freight rates on grain might result in some of the rates being more than doubled, a railway official yesterday told the royal commission on transportation.

C. E. Jefferson, traffic vice-president of the CPR, gave this evidence as the Saskatchewan government opened the prairie's battle to break down CPR claims for repeal of the "Crow's Nest Pass" statute on grain rates.

SASKATCHEWAN OPPOSED

Under this 1925 legislation, freight tolls on the bulk of grain traffic in the west are held at levels set originally in 1897. The CPR, claiming it loses more than $13,000,000 a year on this trade, wants the rates taken off the statute books.

Examination of Mr. Jefferson by Saskatchewan counsel M. A. MacPherson, which opened late in the session, was the first of a series of counter-moves by the west which will see stiff examination of the CPR case and the later presentation of prairie evidence in opposition to the company's proposal.

The CPR officer's evidence on possible doubling of rates came when Mr. MacPherson questioned him regarding the existing Crow's Nest rate of 20 cents per 100 pounds from Regina to the Lakehead.

MORE THAN DOUBLE

Apply a rate-increase formula worked out by the CPR, the Saskatchewan counsel concluded it would bring the Regina-Lakehead grain rate to 41.9 cents if it were applied, and he asked Mr. Jefferson if he would regard that as a "reasonable" rate for the haul.

The vice-president said he would not consider it unreasonable. In fact, the "reasonable" rate might be higher.

"So the least we could expect in Regina would be doubling of the rate," the prairie counsel asked.

"That may be," Mr. Jefferson replied.

SOME BENEFITS LOST

(The CPR already has given evidence that, should the Crow's Nest statute be repealed, it would be satisfied to have the board of transport commissioners set the grain rates on the basis of a thorough investigation.)

Mr. MacPherson suggested the west already has yielded up some of the benefits it obtained originally under the Crow's Nest Pass agreement of 1897, by which the CPR granted rate concessions on a sizeable list of commodities in return for federal aid in building a line over the Rockies pass of that name.

These reductions — on eastern products going into the west—were suspended for a time in 1918 and then eliminated by federal statute in 1925. The west had not benefitted from that phase of the agreement since 1925, the counsel said.

ADMITS DISCRIMINATION

Alberta claims of discrimination against that province in certain freight rates were described by Mr. Jefferson as "exaggerated".

He was discussing Alberta's proposal for closer application of what is called the "long-and-short-haul" of railway rate-making. In general, the principal is that rates between two points should not be lower than to intermediate points on the same type of traffic.

EXTENT "EXAGGERATED"

Alberta's contention before the commission has been that the province suffers long-and-short-haul discrimination, particularly on the railways' low "transcontinental" rates which carry goods from the east to the Pacific seaboard more cheaply than to Alberta points. The trancontinental rates were lowered because of water competition by way of the Panama Canal.

Mr. Jefferson said today that "the extent of discrimination at intermediate points has been exaggerated."

Mae West Collapses But Show Goes On

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Feb. 17. — (AP)—Mae West collapsed on the stage of the Auditorium Theatre last night and could not get past the end of the second act of "Diamond Lil." A spokesman for the travelling company said the actress apparently had contracted food poisoning. The last act was presented without her.

Strike Gold While Digging In Cellar

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 17—(UP)—They've finally struck gold in Hollywood. Movie producer Preston Sturges said today he was digging a cellar for a little theatre next door to his Players' Restaurant and doggone if he didn't shovel up a nugget.

"It was real, all right," he chuckled. "But it'd be too much trouble to get it out. There isn't enough of it anyway."

Business and Politics Now Tied Up Together

Canadian Press Business Editor

One of the conditions of the times is that business and international politics are part of the one bundle.

Robert T. Elson, former Canadian newspaperman, drew attention to this yesterday in an address to the Canadian Paint Varnish and Lacquer Association in Toronto.

Mr. Elson, who now is chief of correspondents for the North American bureaus of Time and Life magazines, reviewed briefly the international scene and commented: "What has this to do with business in 1950?

"Well, the first task certainly must be to be sure that we have the military strength to defend the industrial plant of this continent against Soviet attack. We must be prepared to defend it because the industrial and agricultural production of this continent provides the surplus which gives the free world hope for survival.

GUARANTEE FOREIGN AID

"We can only do this if our economy keeps operating on top capacity. Business today must not only keep itself profitable but it must also produce enough to maintain our defence establishment and guarantee continued aid to Europe and such parts of Asia as are at yet free from the Communist menace.

"This means we must continue to operate on a tight and narrow margin, and that we cannot expect —not in the foreseeable future at least—any relaxation of the demands that our governments now make on all of us.

"All we can hope for is to see that the government spends the tax dollar carefully and that we get full value for our taxes."

Wild boar in the Cherokee National Forest in Tennessee and North Carolina are descendents of boars imported from Europe years ago by sportsmen to stock a game preserve. They form the only droves of European wild boars in America.

Calgary Lawyer Asks Gas Company Proof

CALGARY, Feb. 17—(CP)—The Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board was told today that the provincial government's announced policy of retaining 50 years' supply of gas for Alberta users before export was not guaranteed in information placed before the board by the Westcoast Transmission Company.

The board is hearing an application from the Company for a permit to export natural gas from Alberta to the Pacific Coast.

L. H. Fenerty, counsel for the city of Calgary, criticized evidence placed before the board by witnesses on behalf of the Westcoast Transmission Company.

Mr. Fenerty said the attitude of C. R. Hetherington, New York engineer testifying for the company, was that the "public was going to take it and like it."

The Calgary lawyer said the applicant company must show in evidence that the volume of gas available would satisfy the needs of the Western Canadian Natural Gas Company—which supplies southern Alberta consumers—for "not only 30 years but for 50 years and the peak demands for 30 years."

Labor Election Manifesto Pledges Jobs For Everyone

By Don Gilbert

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(CP)—The Labor party tops its election pledges with a promise of jobs for all.

The party manifesto for the Feb. 23 general election seeks to assure the working man that under a Labor government he need never fear the mass joblessness of the inter-war period.

"The supreme aim that we set before the nation is the maintenance of full employment," says the manifesto which reviews Labor's accomplishments since the party came to power in 1945.

"The world's most comprehensive system of social security" is claimed as one of the party's major achievements.

FIVE PLEDGES

To nail the full-employment plank, the Labor platform pledges:

1. Shipbuilding industry (which already is feeling harder times) will "never again be neglected as it was between the wars."

2. Nationalized industries will be ready with expansion programs to take up any slack that might develop in employment.

3. Through public ownership of the Bank of England, finance will be controlled "so as to maintain full employment."

4. "Labor will not dodge the problem of boosting exports, especially to North America, so Britain can pay for food to eat and raw materials to keep factories running.

5. "Just as we have aimed at keeping purchasing power within limits in the last few years when there have been too few goods and too much money, so we will be prepared to expand purchasing power if the danger is too little money and too many goods."

ONLY COMBINES

On the question of further nationalization of industry, the manifesto says "Monopoly concerns which cannot be dealt with in other ways will be socialized." It mentions sugar, cement and chemicals.

For farmers and farm workers, the Labor statement says "there are and will be assured markets at guaranteed prices for as much as the main products of our farms as our farmers can produce."

South States Hit By Floods

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Flood waters yesterday turned 2,700,000 acres of Louisiana-Mississippi cotton and livestock land into a muddy lake.

With backwaters of six flooded rivers still rising, water poured over new vast areas of east central Louisiana lowlands during the day. Teams of National Guardsmen raced into the freshly-inundated areas in amphibious "ducks" and assault boats to aid evacuations.

No loss of life was reported, but an estimated 6,000 persons have been flooded out of their homes. Flood refugees are living in tents, private homes and hospitals.

French Ignore Reds' Demand For Strike

By Joseph W. Grigg
Exclusive to the Bulletin

PARIS, Feb. 17.—(BUP)—French mine and rail workers handed the Communists a stinging setback today when they ignored a strike call issued by Communist unions to test their ability to halt forthcoming American aid shipments to France.

The Communists had ordered the workers to halt all trains and mine operations in the northern fields for two hours beginning at 8 a.m. (2 a.m. EST) ostensibly as a protest against the government's anti-Communist campaign in Indo-China.

But by mid-morning, reports from all sections of the country showed that trains generally continued running almost normally and in the pits 68 per cent of the miners worked as usual.

The Communist general confederation of Labor (CGT), which ordered the strikes, refused to comment on their effectiveness.

The Communist newspaper Ce Soir, which went to press a half hour after the strikes were scheduled, claimed the railroad strike was "effective on all lines" and that 70-90 per cent of the miners answered the strike call.

SERVICE NORMAL

However, reports from the ministry of interior and from British United Press correspondents throughout France indicated that most train service was normal and that fewer than 40 per cent of the coal miners in the northern coal belt obeyed strike orders.

The ministry of interior officially described both strike attempts as a "complete failure."

Electric suburban trains from some Paris terminals were stopped for about 30 minutes, then resumed normal services.

Students Quit Toronto Paper

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—(CP)—The 16-member editorial board of The Varsity, University of Toronto undergraduate daily newspaper, resigned yesterday over a dispute with the Student's Administrative Council.

Stan. Fillmore, editor-in-chief, said the action was taken because of a council directive giving E. A. Macdonald final say in Varsity advertising matters. Mr. Macdonald, a full-time official appointed by the university, is secretary-treasurer of the student council and advertising manager of the paper.

Mr. Fillmore said he interpreted the council's decision as indicating lack of confidence in him and his staff.

The population of Canada at the last census in 1941 was 11,307,000, compared with 10,377,000 in 1931.

Nolan TKO's Geary in 4th

Retains Western Welter Title in Lack-Lustre Bout

By Dick Beddoes
Bulletin Sportswriter

CALGARY, Feb. 17—Whatever blow it was that Irish Jimmy Nolan landed on Benny Geary in the second round of their western Canadian welterweight fight here last night—and it's my opinion, as an eye witness, that it was a vicious sock to the kidneys—the young champion succeeded in retaining his crown.

For after a flurry of infighting in a neutral corner during the second heat, Geary appeared to loose all interest in the fight.

Nolan came along then to dump Geary on his trousers with a left hook in the third round, and then score a technical knockout in the fourth.

Actual time of the armistice was 1:32 of the fourth, the Wildwood Negro having been knocked down for counts of nine and three prior to referee Bob Selkirk stopping the fight.

BIG TURNOUT

As to the vital statistics, Geary weighed 146½ pounds, Nolan 147 and the most vital statistic of all so far as promoter Ernie Farr was concerned, was the size of the house. It was the largest in 30 years to witness a prize fight in Calgary, over 3,100 fans paying nearly $5,000 to see Nolan retain his title.

It was not a good scrap.

I saw a better brawl on a Calgary street corner earlier in the day between beer slingers and their scab counterparts. The bar keepers' union is at odds with the hotels over a small matter of currency, and since the strike has been on, the ambulance people have been doing a roaring business.

But let us not get side-tracked. Nolan won, and that is the story, even though it won't make as interesting reading as, say, an account of the aforementioned strikers, riot.

Nolan was the aggressor throughout. He rushed across the ring to open the first round, throwing his power-laden fists at various sections of the Geary anatomy.

But Geary, 11 years Nolan's senior and former champion weathered the storm. He made Nolan miss, bobbing and ducking out of danger. On most score cards the round was a draw, although I had Nolan ahead by a fugitive shade because of his aggressiveness.

WAS IT A FOUL?

The second followed the pattern of the first. But on one occasion Nolan hemmed Geary into a neutral corner and appeared to pelt him in the kidneys with a potent right hand.

The Wildwood werewolf produced his best offensive thrusts in the third, catching Nolan with some fair body punches. It was during a counter attack, that the youthful Irisher's left hook floored Geary for a nine count.

People started to leave then, even though the bell granted Geary a brief reprieve.

A right cross—the best blow of the evening—again put the aging challenger in a horizontal position for nine, just seconds after the fourth round opened. When Geary swayed to his feet, he was greeted by a left to the head and a right to the solar plexus which floored him again.

Benjamin lost his sense of direction at this point and only took a count of three. When he tumbled to the canvas from a mere push by the exultant champ, referee Selkirk called it quits.

On the whole the action was comparatively tame.

Geary claimed Nolan fouled him repeatedly with low blows and kidney wallops. And in a measure these claims are true. Nolan, a clean-living, church-going lad outside the ring, admitted afterwards that he fights rough and tumble.

Said he simply: "The fans like rugged action with butting and elbowing thrown in."

They do at that.

But Geary didn't like it. "After he clipped me in the kidneys I knew that the faster I got out of there, the better off I'd be" said the discouraged little Negro.

Benny was of the opinion that referee Selkirk was pro-Nolan. Said he: 'Why, when I tried to give some of his own medicine in return the ref warned me to keep my fists up".

However, Benny can solace himself with the $300 he picked up as his share of the purse. The bout had been advertised in the Calgary papers as a winner-take-all affair, but don't you believe it. Everybody got a slice of the gate.

Nolan got the biggest slice next to Mr. Farr, rumored to be something like 30 per cent. And when you consider that the total take approximated five grand, Irish Jimmy's cut therefore will be more than pretzels.

Maroons edged Flyers 1-0 last night in a Maple Leaf Bantam Hockey league game at Stadium rink.

JUNIOR LOOP PLAYOFF TILT AT GARDENS

Northern Alberta Junior Hockey league play-offs continue tonight as Morey Rimstad's powerful EAC tangle with South Side at the Gardens.

Clubmen have a game lead in the best-of-five series. They downed South Siders 9-1 at the Gardens Wednesday night.

The surprising South Side squad just managed to make the last play-off spot but is not expected to give the EAC. season long league leaders, any trouble.

But anything can happen in hockey—and usually does. Game time is 8:30.

Canadian Skate Champs Perform At Week-End

A number of Dominion champions will be doing their stuff when the provincial outdoor speed skating championships are held at Diamond Park tomorrow and Sunday.

Sponsored by the Edmonton Speed Skating club, the annual championships have attracted 97 entries, including seven from Calgary and 22 from Saskatoon, a recognized hot-bed of the sport.

Pat Lawson, starry Saskatoon speedster, heads a group of four Canadian titlists scheduled to take part. Others are Verna Currie, Sylvia Robertson and Roy Failing, all of Edmonton.

Total of 12 events, evenly divided between the sexes, will be run off.

Tomorrow afternoon will be devoted to the staging of heats, with finals in all events set for Sunday. Starting time both days will be 2:30 p.m.

In addition to the Canadian champions referred to, such excellent skaters as Doreen McLeod, Bill Kasting and more will be in action.

Miss McLeod, who has graduated to senior company, last year held the provincial junior indoor and outdoor crowns.

Kasting, while he had to settle for runner-up honors at last year's dominion tournament, is Alberta's senior men's outdoor and indoor champion.

Toronto, Canadiens In Bitter 3-3 Draw

MONTREAL, Feb. 17—(CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens fought to a bitter 3-3 draw last night but it took a desperate third period rally to give Canadiens the stand-off.

It was a hard driving, rugged battle all the way before a crowd of 14,041, most of whom were left limp at the end.

Result left Leafs in second place in the National Hockey league, two points ahead of Canadiens.

Maurice Richard scored twice for Canadiens, his 28th and 29th goals of the season, putting him one up on Detroit's Sid Abel in the league scoring race. One of Richard's goals was the tying marker with just one minute to go. Leo Gravelle scored Canadiens' other goal.

Leafs counted once in each period on goals by Bill Ezinicki, Cal Gardner and Howie Meeker and appeared headed for a victory until the Montreal uprising broke loose in a series of power attacks.

The rough going produced 11 penalties. Leafs had six.

Ezinicki swept around defenceman Roger Leger to score the only goal of the first period with a hard backhand shot.

Richard got it back for Canadiens early in the second on a blast shot, with assists to Billy Reay and Glen Harmon.

Leafs forged ahead again late in the period when Gardner, combined with Ezinicki and Bill Juzda.

Meeker put the Leafs two up half way through the final period by stealing the puck off Kenny Reardon near the side of the Montreal net and whipping home a fast shot.

Power plays paid off for the desperate Canadiens and brought the tie. Gravelle lifted the puck into an empty net after goalie Turk Broda had made three brilliant saves in a row and was out of position.

Hold City Ski Tests At Week-End

City championships will highlight skiing activities at the week-end as the hickory enthusiasts move out to the Eskimo hill (opposite White Mud) Sunday afternoon to race against time down the slalom course set up by the officials of the Edmonton and Eskimo ski clubs.

A six-man team will be selected from the racers competing, to represent Edmonton in the intercity meet against Calgary on Banff's Mount Norquay, March 11-12.

Besides the men, four women will make up the squad of 10 making the trip to Banff for the meet.

Other races this week-end will be staged by the Recreation Commission, as youngsters from the 'Learn to Ski Campaign' try their new found skill at racing on Saturday afternoon. Tests will be held on Grassy, Highlands and Municipal hills.

Each hill will select a team which will compete against teams from the other hills in a final meet February 25. Each skier passing the campaign tests will be awarded a diploma. Crests will be given the race winners along with other prizes.

SIDEHILL SITZMARKS . . .

February 26 will be a busy day at Connor's hill as the Northern Alberta Ski Jumping meet will be held on the Edmonton Ski Club's scaffold. Jumpers from all parts of Northern Alberta will be competing, with entries expected to pass those of previous years.

Curling Ace Wins 22 Straight Tries

WINNIPEG, Feb. 17—(CP)—The Billy McTavish rink from Winnipeg Elmwood last night won the Manitoba curling championship by defeating Gord Taylor of Rivers, Man., 12-6 in a sudden death final.

The victory, which ended a straight knockout series, gives McTavish the right to represent Manitoba in the Dominion curling finals in Vancouver next month.

He also won the triple crown in Manitoba's 52nd annual bonspiel. It is the first time in bonspiel history that any rink has swept through the bonspiel undefeated, and gone on to win the provincial championship. The triple crown consists of the Eaton and Birks events, and the aggregate.

McTavish won the triple crown when he added the Eaton trophy to his collection early last night. He trounced Leo Johnson of Winnipeg Strathcona 11-4, after downing Cliff Hudson of Strathcona 10-8 in the Birks final. Earlier, he had swept through the bonspiel, to gain the aggregate.

McTavish's victory last night—his 22nd straight in the provincial spiel and playoffs—gives him the chance to defend for Manitoba the Dominion title won last year by Winnipeg's Ken Watson of the Strathcona club, only three-time winner. Close to 4,500 fans jammed the amphitheatre rink.

BABY-FACED battler Jimmy Nolan, Calgary, scored a fourth round knockout over Benny Geary, Wildwood, in southern Alberta centre last night. As a result Nolan retained his Western Canada welterweight crown

I told him in the beginning that about all I knew man's best friend was that those whose kenneis fron along a certain west end street were pretty much a y yak breed.

But Roxburgh, recently appointed publicity chairm (get it?) of the Edmonton Sporting Dog club, had co to do a job on me. He refused to panic in the face of abysmal ignorance.

"Do you realize?" he asked after getting sufficien warmed to the task, "that upwards of 6,000 dog licen were issued in the city last year?"

"Furthermore, did you know that close to 20 pe cent were taken out for retriever and other types o hunting dog'?"

And so, gradually, Mr. Roxburgh 'sold' me on the hobby of himself and thousands of other sportsmen continent and world over.

CONACHER APOLOGIZES TO DETROIT WRITER

CHICAGO, Feb. 17—(AP)—Charles Conacher, coach of Chicago Black Hawks hockey team, yesterday wired his apologies to writer Lew Walter of the Detroit Times who claims Conacher slugged him after a game in Detroit Feb. 8.

Conacher said, "I sincerely regret the event. It was a bad night for the Black Hawks and for me personally and I was upset." The telegram added:

Walter has filed an assault charge against Conacher. He alleged the incident occurred in the Hawk dressing room.

HISTORY REPEATS

Manahan Cops Consols Curling

It's just like old times with the British Consols curling competition.

Cliff Manahan will represent this section of the province in a round robin series to be played at the Granite rink tomorrow.

At stake will be an expenses-free trip to Vancouver for the dominion championships to be played out there, starting March 6. And should Manahan earn the right to the coast jaunt, it will afford him an opportunity to earn his third Canadian title.

Yesterday —at the Granite— the veteran Royal-club skip dished out a pair of artistic lacings to Frank Wolfe, Edmonton club, and Gordon Walker, Royal shotmaker who unsuccessfully represented northern Alberta in last year's provincial playdown.

A GOOD START

To start the day it was Manahan 16, Wolfe 6.

This was turning the tables with a vengeance. The duo before—in the four section winners of the 23-rink 'spiel battled it out—Wolfe had walloped Manahan by the same count.

Talk about getting even!

At the first end Manahan racked up a three. Wolfe came back to hit the chalk for a singleton at the next. Forever the Royal clubbers lowered the boom at the third. With skip Manahan making a tricky raise with his last rock the west-end rink struck for a loud six. That made it 9-1.

Mr. Wolfe and friends hung on gamely until the ninth, then called it quits.

Next it was Manahan vs. Walker and again Manahan—with his supporting cast of son Ross Manahan, Gordon Haynes and Bill Bull going in great style—made a runaway of it.

GOT AWAY RIGHT

Second Period Uprising Features Wetaskiwin Win

WETASKIWIN, Feb. 17—Featuring a four goal outburst in the second period, Wetaskiwin evened their Northern Alberta Junior Hockey league semi-final series at a game apiece as they trounced Edmonton Canadians 7-1 here last night before 350 fans.

Winger Doug Campbell sparked the locals, notching two of the second period markers. Linemates Dale McKee and Bill MacPherson fired the other two goals in the same frame.

Wetaskiwin's other goals over the sixty minutes came off the sticks of Jack Chapman and Murray Swanson with a pair.

KIRSTINE NETTED

Winger Bill Kirstine spoiled Wetaskiwin net-minder Pee Wee Worth's shutout by scoring for the visitors in the opening period.

Swanson was the first to get on the scoresheet as he blasted Don Morley's relay past Canadian puckstopper Bob Sangster during a scramble around the net at 2:36 of the first frame.

Canadian defenceman Gil Myller later drove a hard shot from inside the blueline at Worth and Kirstine was Johnny-on-the-spot to defleet the puck into the hemp. Period ended 1-1.

Score did not indicate the play in the fast, rugged game. The Canucks held a slight edge territorially, especially in the latter stages of the contest.

IT GOT ROUGH

Tempers flared and sticks rode high in the last period, as eight of the 12 penalties in the game were handed out. Al Bryant, Canadian pivot, and Chapman received majors for fighting.

Bryant and Chapman began pushing each other near the Wetaskiwin goal and finally the gloves were off and fists flying. The real bout was between Bryant and Wetaskiwin defenceman Bob Dumont. Dumont, however was not given a penalty.

Another fight threatened to break out later in the same period but only minors were handed out in Good Deportment of Canadians and Swanson for "roughing."

'We Wuz Robbed' . . . Geary

By DICK BEDDOES
Bulletin Sportswriter

CYWTOWN, Feb. 17 — Barney Geary will [illegible] protest today with the Western Canadian Boxing and Wrestling Federation over his welterweight title scrap here last night with Teddy Johnson.

The Geary protest will be made on the following grounds:

(a) Nolan was overweight, and

(b) Nolan didn't fight cleanly in winning on a TKO in the fourth round.

Geary claims that Nolan scaled 147¾ pounds at the weighing and was thus four ounces over the welterweight limit.

The Wetaskiwin Times also was dissatisfied with the refereeing.

No one is positive that a Western Boxing and Wrestling Federation exists. But if one does—and for the good of boxing in the west, one should—Geary will lodge his protest through his manager, Art Ward.

★ ★ ★

Members of the Edmonton fight mob who took in the fisticuffs included promoter Jack Berry and his wife, judge Roy Hallbutton and his wife, Benny Grabow, Miteh Kuimow, Ward and Mrs. Geary.

Berry and Grabow were in Geary's corner. Both felt "their boy" had been mistreated.

Promoter Ernie Farr produced a poor card generally, none of the bouts comparing with those shown regularly by Berry in the Stock Pavilion.

Jim Richardson tied up the game at the three minute mark of the second stanza, but Hill Gaul scored to send Sparlings one up again.

Then Camrose's Smith and Stewart scored to put Maroons in the lead and they never looked back. Forrest notched another, and then Steen counted one to give the home town club a three goal lead.

BILL EDDY, AL MAROTTI FIGHT TONIGHT

Irish Bill Eddy, tenacious fighter from Los Angeles, who has never seen Al Marotti but claims he will stop him without any trouble, will get a chance to prove his boasts tonight at the Stock Pavilion.

Marotti and Eddy are billed in a ten rounder as the main attraction on fight promoter Jack Berry's ten-my card.

A special attraction on the evening's card will be a six round bout between Johnny Wawruck and Art Vendes. This match was tentatively refereed, but had been held up pending the go-ahead signal from the Boxing Commission due to Wawruck's refusal to fight on a previous card, after a fight had presumably been arranged for him.

Twin Bill Features Lady Loop

Wolves and Lions turned in wins last night in a Junior Girls League ball league double-header played at McDougall Gym.

In the first game, Wolves edged the Cubs 26-24 and Lions had no difficulty in setting back the Tigers, score being 27-12.

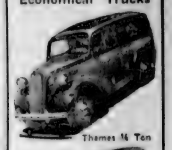

Pat Waddington led the Lions to victory, notching 9 points. Marge Cordingly was top scorer for the Tigers accounting for six points. Nora Thomas eaning scene top among the Wolves, but Nancy Pe was the game's high scorer, putting 9 points for the cubs.

Stu Hart To Rassle Korman

A pair of Canadians — local boy Stu Hart and Montreal's Al Korman — have been given top billing on promoter Al Oeming's weekly wrastlin' program at the Stock Pavilion Tuesday.

Hart, of course, long has been recognized as one of the finest grunt-and-groaners turned out of the Edmonton mat-mill. In Korman, he'll be taking on a comparatively recent arrival to the rasslin' circuit that operates hereabouts.

Semi-windup will find Earl McCready, the Amulet, Sask., veteran pitted against newcomer Carlos Rodriquez. According to promoter Oeming's latest publicity blurb Rodriquez's father "once was Mexico's premier bull-fighter."

In other exhibitions: Bill Sisek, Toronto, takes on Jerry Meeker, Great Falls, and Steve Bellman jousts with Johnnie Bartolevich.

NEW YORK (Sunnyside Garden) —(UP)—Claude Hammond, 146, West New York, N.J., stopped Joey Carkido, 141½, Youngstown, O., (2).

ZENO COLO 2ND

Swiss Speedster Wins Ski Crown

By Harold Classen

ASPEN, Colo., Feb. 17—(CP)—Georges Schneider, a blond powerhouse from the Swiss Alps, twice swirled through the 40 gates of the men's slalom course yesterday to win that world ski title.

Schneider zoomed down Mount Aspen's icy corkscrew the first time in 1:30.6. Second time he made the 3,000-foot journey, that drops 700 feet in its brief run, in 1:02.8, for a combined time of 2:00.4.

Zeno Colo, the Italian farmer who won the giant slalom Tuesday and was the only man Schneider (said he) feared, was second with 1:02.8-1:03.9—2:06.7.

Canada made its best showing in the meet so far as Ernie McCullogh of Lac Ouimet and Mi Trembiant, Que., finished in fifth-place tie with Egon Schopf of Austria. McCullogh had 1:04.4 and 1:04.6 for 2:09, while the Austrian put together times of 1:04.2 and 1:04.8 for the same total.

No other Canadians finished in the first half of the 60-man field from 13 countries.

Yves Latreille of Ste. Adele, Que., finished 28th with a total time of 2:16.2. The other Canadians entered ended this way: Yvon Tache, Quebec City 38th; Gordon Morrison, Banff 42nd; Jack Griffon, Montreal, 43rd; John Clifford, Ottawa, 45th; Alec McDougall, Ottawa, 50th; Jim Georgas, Owen Sound, Ont., 56th.

Stein Ericksen, 22-year-old Norwegian student, was third after having led the field for the first round. Poling his way down the second time Ericksen almost lost his right stick and the decrease in speed cost him heavily.

Yesterday's point distribution made the unofficial team standing as follows: Austria 42, Italy 21, Switzerland 18, France 14, United States and Norway, 4 each, and Canada 1. Seven countries still have to score.

Retired heavyweight champion Joe Louis has hired New York promoter Abby Neiderreiter to line-up a five-week exhibition tour in South America. Observers believe Louis will use the tour to get into shape for a comeback in a title bout this June.

LOCAL SCRIBES CRITICAL OF NHL HEAD

The Edmonton Sports Writers' Association sent a telegram to Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey league, criticizing his stand in a recent dressingroom assault case at Detroit.

Lew Walter, Detroit sports writer, charged that Charlie Conacher, coach of the Chicago Black Hawks, slugged him in a dressing room following a game Feb. 8.

Campbell was quoted subsequently as saying sports writers enter dressing rooms at their own risk.

Following is the telegram sent to Campbell by Gordon Williamson, president of the Edmonton group, following an executive meeting:

"We regret exceedingly your official stand in the Conacher-Walter incident. It reflects to detriment of National Hockey league as truly big time. Since when do sports writers visit dressing rooms 'at their own risk.' Suggest Conacher contact Dale Carnegie."

Oliver Bantams In City Final

Coach Halley Hepburn's Oliver bantams defeated McKernan Lake 2-1 in a Community league game played at Oliver last night.

Oliver won the two-game total-goal series 8-1 and now meet Cromdale in the city final.

John Curtis tallied both Oliver markers, while George Hawker notched the lone McKernan Lake goal.

Bears' Coach Is Cautious

Van Vliet Calls Meteors To be Tougher Tonight

"It's now or never for them, and Meteors will really be hustling tonight," said opposition coach Prof. Maury Van Vliet yesterday. Meteors and Prof. Van Vliet's Varsity Bears tangle tonight in the second game of the two-out-of-three-game series for the northern Alberta senior men's basketball crown at Varsity gym.

Opening game of tonight's twin bill will feature Sparling Davis Pipeliners and Y.M.C.A. Toilers, who are battling it out for the intermediate title.

Bears upset Meteors 44-32 Tuesday in the first playoff tilt and according to Van Vliet, "tonight's game will be hard fought."

"We caught Meteors below form Tuesday, and they didn't realize that our boys would hustle so much. But you're not likely to catch a team as good as they are off the beam twice in a row."

Bears have improved from being a go-so squad at the start of the season to a hard-fighting, competitive team. As Prof. Van Vliet says, "team unity has improved more than in any other squad I have coached."

Waterloo Meteors, who dominated the picture all season, suffered only one loss in league play. Bears were the only ones to upset Meteors' apple cart and the motormen's coach, Hob "Lefty" Strother, claimed, at the time, that every team has a bad night.

Strother also stated his boys were 15 points better than any squad in the league. How now?

Meteors play basketball like a model T Ford. One night they work like a charm and the next nothing seems to click.

They will need a little more of that razzle-dazzle ball handling and eagle-eyed shooting that earlier gave them the nickname "Point-a-minute Meteors" if they expect to go on to the provincial playoffs.

In the opening tilt at 7:00 tonight Toilers will be after their second win in the two-out-of-three series against Pipeliners. They won the first game 50-27.—GIBB.

Cromdale Wins

Cromdale thumped Bellevue 11-2 last night to win the two-game total-goal series 21-4 in a Community Bantam Hockey league game at Cromdale rink.

Allan Grant led Cromdale in the goal scoring department with six counters. Team-mate Bill Wolf scored three, while singles were netted by Dick Turner and Dan Sorensen.

Bellevue markers went to Ted Neilson and Jack Bastford.

Cancel Draws

Regular Monday and Tuesday draws at the Granite curling club have been cancelled due to the annual mixed bonspiel.

Stamps Play Quakers Tonight

Western Canada Hockey league action tonight will see Saskatoon Quakers visiting the Calgary Stampeders, the teams currently tied for second place in the standings.

These clubs and the last place Regina Caps are staging a hot race for playoff positions. Tonight's tussle is one of the most important of the season.

Flyers, who have all but cinched first place, held a light workout last night in preparation for Saskatoon's visit tomorrow night. A Flyer victory against Quakers will nail down the top rung.

Edmonton scoring aces will be out to improve their averages and perhaps get goalie Ray Frederick his first shutout of the season.

OIL

Leduc Calmar No. 2 Hits Oil in D2 Zone

By C. V. Myers
Bulletin Oil Editor

A mile and three-quarters southeast of the main producing portion of the Leduc oilfield, Leduc Calmar No. 2 has found oil in the D2 of Devonian. Location is lsd 5 of 25-49-26w4th.

During a one-hour test of the top of the D2 at 5,260 feet, a 690-foot column of clean oil was obtained in the drill pipe, accompanied by a natural gas flow of more than half a million cubic feet per day. Casing is now being run.

The new success is on the same sub-division as a well drilled last year which gave encouragement in the D2 before being wrecked by a cyclone and is about 100 feet south of it. Still another well, about 100 feet to the north, was a dry hole.

Leduc Calmar Oils Ltd., owns the quarter section on which the No. 2 well was drilled, and put up a third of the drilling costs. The other two-thirds, some $50,000, was contributed by Highwood-Sarcee Oils Ltd., Kroy Oils Ltd., Jupiter Oils Ltd., Vulcan Oils Ltd., and Alberta Oil Holdings Ltd.

Leduc Calmar will receive half of any benefits from production at the well, the other half being divided equally between the other five companies. The cost and benefits of drilling any further wells on the same quarter section will be divided on the same percentage basis

McCOLL SUCCESS

In the southwest corner of the Leduc field, the Texaco Exploration-McColl Frontenac team has met with success at its second Leduc producer, a D2 well.

It is Texaco-McColl-Calmar No 3, located in lsd 9 of 36-49-27w4th, a south offset to the team's first Leduc oilwell. Bottomed at 5,220 feet, the well produced at the rate of 10 barrels hourly during a two-hour test. The well will now be given an acid treatment and another test run.

AT REDWATER

The latest Imperial Oil drilling report says that the company has four wells ready for initial potential tests in the Redwater field. [illegible] 70, and [illegible]

J. Grant Spratt vice-president and managing director of Anglo-Canadian Oil Co. Ltd., was elected president of the Western Canada Petroleum Association at a directors meeting in Calgary.

Other members of the 1950 executive are S. F. Heard, president of Royalite Oil Co. Ltd, first vice-president; R. C. Brown, vice-president and general manager of Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas Co. Ltd., second vice-president; G. W. Auxier, executive vice-president and general manager of the association and G. L. Humphries, secretary-treasurer. All executive members are of Calgary.

Wartime Leader Sees Need For Commander

Exclusive to the Bulletin

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(BUP)—The United States needs a supreme commander in the Far East to block the Russian-sponsored drive of Communism on Southeast Asia, according to Major Gen. William J. Donovan, head of the wartime Office of Strategic Services.

Donovan said last night that there is an "urgency" for leadership now that the Russians are picking up momentum "from their speedy victories in China."

"This victory now makes Russia the dominant power in Asia as well as Europe," he said.

The former head of the U.S. wartime "cloak and dagger" agents said the situation requires "a leader—whether you call him a supreme commander or a high commissioner with the authority, the experience and the ability to deal with political as well as military problems."

SEEN DEFEAT FOR U.S.

Donovan said that throughout the Far East the Russian-Chinese Communist treaty is "regarded as a defeat for the United States."

He warned that the balance of power on which formal peace depends "will be hopelessly upset if the Russians carry out their projected extension of the Chinese conquest to Indo-China, Hong Kong, The Philippines, Siam, Malaya, Indonesia and Burma."

Donovan, just back from a Far Eastern tour, declared that the Russians "boldly announced" their "conquest of China" by recognizing the Communist revolutionary parties in French Indo-China. The Russian route is the "path by which the Japanese before them got all the way to India," he said.

Actress Files Divorce Suit

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 17. —(BUP)—Petite Wanda Hendrix filed suit for divorce today against Audie Murphy, the most decorated American soldier of World War II.

Murphy, the 25-year-old war hero turned actor, moved out of the couple's small apartment yesterday. His actress wife announced she would seek the divorce on grounds of mental cruelty.

She and Murphy were married Feb. 8, 1949, after a year-long courtship.

The marriage was beset by mishaps from the start.

The marriage ceremony was delayed 35 minutes when Murphy forgot the licence. Each became ill with flu on their honeymoon. After the honeymoon, she returned to Hollywood while Audie went on tour with a book he authored.

Murphy, after returning here, discovered he had ulcers—and then his wife broke an ankle.

Murphy admitted last September that the marriage was on the rocks. "Everything's been against us from the start," Wanda said then. "We've had so little time together. Things can't get any worse."

Murphy blamed having "Hollywood and the public for in-laws" for busting up the marriage.

All Burned Up

SEATTLE —(UP)— Herbert L. Carlson testified in Justice of the Peace Guy B. Knott's court here that he set his car on fire because "I got mad when the darn thing wouldn't start."

OLD TERM IS BANNED

'Brass Hat' Displeases U.S. Navy Brass Hats

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(CP) The United States Navy is trying to knock some of the salt out of its vocabulary.

It is against the use of such terms as "brass hats," "grade-school boys," "gyrene," "sea-going bellhop," "Airedale" and "Mustang."

Reason: They aren't good for service unification.

Word that the navy is launching an offensive against slang within its ranks came from its public relations news letter, which informs "flag and other ranking officers" of current policies.

Brass hats have been called brass hats within the memory of the oldest sailors and their grandfathers. It began because of the gold braid decorating their hats.

U.S. Marines have been called gyrenes and sea-going bellhops by navy men, sometimes with the term preceded by a choice adjective.

Grade-school boys was tagged on graduates of the naval academy at Annapolis, Md., during the Second World War, when most navy men were reservists.

Airedales are navy aviators while Mustang is a long-standing term for an officer who rose from the ranks.

But these terms, the navy has decided, made for disunity.

Unemployment Hearing Off

OTTAWA, Feb. 17. — (CP) — Labor Department yesterday announced cancellation of a public hearing planned to investigate possibilities of extending unemployment insurance benefits to employees of commercial hospitals and charitable institutions.

The department said the Unemployment Commission had advertised it would hold this hearing Feb. 24, but it now has been decided the hearing "would not take place at that date." No new date was announced.

POWER DEVELOPMENT IN NORTH FORECAST

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Wider use of hydro-electric power plants in Canada's northland is envisioned in a legislative change to be brought forward for approval at the current session of parliament.

This is embodied in an amendment to the North West Territories Power Commission Act.

A resources department official said the act, as it stands, allows the commission to build power stations in the North West Territories only. By amending the act, the commission would be given authority to construct plants for use in the Yukon.

Indians Get 'A Raw Deal'

WINNIPEG, Feb. 17.—(CP)—A. E. Thompson of Dallas, secretary of Manitoba Indian Association, said here that the federal government has "deprived the Canadian Indian of his proper treaty rights."

The Indian leader charged that under the Indian Act "Canadian Indians are treated like people in Communist countries."

"In Communist countries people can't sell anything without a permit and that's not what our treaty rights are."

Mr. Thompson contended that under the treaty of 1871, Indians were guaranteed free fishing, trapping, and wild-bird shooting rights, tax exemptions and old-age pensions.

"Not one of these treaty rights has been put into effect," he claimed. "We require permits for fishing, trapping and shooting. There's tax exemption on reservations but off reservations Indians have to pay income and other taxes."

Chiang's China Asks U.S. Aid

SEATTLE, Feb. 17—(AP)—Nationalist China's top diplomat in the United Nations called last night on the United States to reconsider what he called its "dubious" China policy and give moral backing to the beleaguered Nationalists. T. F. Tsiang also asked, in an address prepared for the Seattle World Affairs Council at University of Washington, for support from the United States in the UN where the Soviet bloc has tried in vain thus far to oust him and his delegation.

Sound and Fury

Those individual juke boxes lining many city restaurant counters are making no part of a hit with me. I'd like to tell you why.

The other night I was trying hard to concentrate on a delicious cheese sandwich with a scoop of vanilla ice cream on the side, when somebody turned on Bing Crosby at the next stool.

Four stools away a giggling bobby soxer with thick ankles turned up the volume on Guy Lombardo.

Next, a big pug-ugly who looked a lot like the late Al Capone, tuned in on Hearthstone of The Death Squad two stools to starboard. It was awful. I was barely able to finish my second limburger sandwich with a side dish of dill pickles.

I know what the poet meant about Sound and Fury. The sound came from the juke boxes but most of the fury was mine.

Question for biologist, Dr. Rowan, from nature lover in North Edmonton:

"Will butterfly population decrease now that margarine is being so widely used?"

And speaking of butterflies, Mrs. A. F. Haddad of 10705 - 74th avenue, phoned last night to inform me that a big white butterfly is flying around in her kitchen. Spring must be near or the Haddad butterfly has "hadit."

When I told Elegant Elsie about the butterfly she said she wasn't surprised about people seeing them in the winter. She recalled she had an uncle who swears he saw a snake at 96 street and 104 avenue on New Year's morning. Uncle was coming home from an all-night celebration.

Note from Tokyo

It sure is getting to be a small world. Got a note yesterday from Northwest Airlines vice-president Don J. King in Tokyo.

Big, handsome Don and Mrs. King were in Edmonton in that awful cold spell last month. They're finding weather in Tokyo quite a welcome change. "Just like Florida," in fact.

Mrs. King wants me to send a picture of her good-looking husband that Bulletin's staff photographer Danny Scott took during their visit here. She says:

"It's the nicest picture Don ever had taken." Take a suitably bashful bow, Mr. Scott. Who knows, but what we may both want to thumb an airlift to Tokyo one of these days.

Walls Go Tumbling Down

A prominent city official has purchased the 40-year-old sign that once was proudly displayed on the Grand Central Hotel. Building housing old hotel is being torn down to make way for Macdonald hotel extension. Information by courtesy of Adby Construction and Demolition Co.

Hard hit by demolition of this old landmark is a middle-aged First Great War veteran I've known for a long time. For 10 years he has occupied a single room above the Grand Central Lunch for which he paid $10 per month. The man draws $33 per month in pension. He just doesn't know how in the world he is going to pay the going rents.

A soothing good-night to all and especially to people who don't try to play different records on 38 juke boxes at the same time.

SHINNY FOR STUDENTS

SHINNY—a fast hockey game without skates or ice—has been introduced at Cromdale school and may be followed by others. It has been found the ideal outdoor game for recess by Cromdale's physical instructor, A. E. Laube. Game is played on courts 30 by 45 feet. Surface snow is hard-packed and courts are banked. Instead of puck, boys use flattened softball. There is no limit to number of players.

Lift Limitation On Taxi Numbers

Bylaw Orders Owners To Give 24-Hour Service

Edmonton today has a brand new taxi bylaw, with no restrictions on total numbers of licences that may be issued to operators who meet minimum requirements.

City council last night struggled through proceedings to red tape to rescind its long standing resolution limiting total number of licenced cabs to 182.

Aldermen Sid Bowcott and F. Armour Ford bitterly opposed rescinding the numbers restriction.

EXTRA CABS

"You'll live to regret this, when you have an extra 300 cabs on city streets competing with our transit system," said Ald. Bowcott.

NOTICE IS WAIVED

Since the rescinding action had no connection legally with consideration of the bylaw, a special notice of motion was essential—unless council agreed by a two-thirds majority to consider it last night.

Aldermen Fred Mitchell and Ford opposed Ald. Dick Hanna's attempt to introduce the motion, but were overruled.

When he introduced it, Aldermen Bowcott, Ford and Mitchell also supported an amendment referring the matter to the new advisory board approved at Monday's council meeting. This too was swamped.

Ald. Hanna received no support in an earlier bid to have a "no restrictions on total numbers" clause inserted in the new bylaw.

It was agreed that "cents in it would have the effect of limiting maximum number.

Ald. Hanna repeated his Monday night attempt to have deleted a 24-hour service requirement. Only Aldermen Ed Clarke and Harold Tanner supported him.

PRECISE REGULATIONS

Among conditions which must be met by taxicab applicants are that they have, at time of issuance, at least three cars, a place of business approved by city commissioners, proper facilities, and sufficient staff to provide 24-hour cab and telephone service. All provincial licence regulations must first be met.

Present operators with less than three cars may be exempted by commissioners from compliance with certain bylaw provisions.

Regular checks of vehicles and drivers are stipulated.

Provision for return to the licence inspector or licences held by operators going out of business is designed to eliminate alleged black market in plate rentals, said City Solicitor Tom Garside.

CANCELLATION PROVISION

No transfer of licences is permitted.

Licence fee is boosted from $10 per year to $25, and the licence year changed to conform with provincial licence year, April 1 to March 31.

Commissioners now have power to suspend or cancel any licence for failure to provide 24-hour service, for laxity in operation or supervision of employes, for breach of licence-transfer stipulations, or where applicants make false declarations.

Any suspension or cancellation can be appealed to council.

Conviction on bylaw offences makes an operator [illegible] licence for [illegible] and suspension from [illegible] 30 days, or cancellation of licence. Drivers can be suspended for 30 days, or have their licences cancelled, on conviction of offence.

JOINT OFFICE RULES

Licencees may, with commissioners' approval, join in providing common office accommodation and other facilities to provide 24-hour service. Licencees may also, with approval, be permitted to use only one or such other number of telephones as commissioners think sufficient.

This is to prevent several companies operating from one office and listing separate telephone numbers.

A cab driver carrying two or more passengers from a common starting point to two or more destinations must not consider each stop the end of one trip and the start of a new one. He must clear the meter and start it again for remainder of the journey.

TAXI MEN OPPOSED

Taxi operators, through their secretary, Claude Fletcher, belatedly denounced council's decision last night.

"This is a most regrettable action," he said. "I think the public would be better served by a limitation of numbers."

Before council during its deliberations was a mimeographed five-page draft of Mr. Fletcher's proposed presentation on the new bylaw.

It said, "The Edmonton Taxicab Operators' association has gone very thoroughly into the new bylaw, and I might say we are very pleased with it and in agreement with most of the provisions.

"However, the provisions regarding double or multiple trips do not seem to give either the operators or public a fair deal."

Threat Seen For Drivers

"We used to call it an industry but it's becoming a racket."

Those were the words used today by president of the Taxi Cab Association of Edmonton, A. Hollinger, to express his opinion of the new taxi bylaw.

The bylaw places no restrictions on the number of vehicles a company may operate.

"This will certainly cause a panic among the small operators who are working on a shoe-string," said Mr. Hollinger.

SHOW BOOST

He believed that if the council would only have allowed the cabs to be increased slowly no harm would be done.

"This way the driver as well as small companies will suffer," he said.

Only hope for the situation was that a taxi board, being considered by council, will be given power to distribute licences, he said.

David Erickson, secretary of Transportation Drivers' local 564, also said a provincial taxi board with power to distribute licences on basis of [illegible] would help [illegible].

"We have fought hard and long for a decent standard for the cab drivers," said Mr. Erickson. He added that the new bylaw would make it more difficult for this [illegible].

He also [illegible] that the unrestricted number of cars would flood the industry with a large number of undesirable transients.

Cartage Company Is Fined $500 Following Accident

Western Cartage Co. Ltd., of Edmonton, yesterday was found guilty of criminal negligence in the Oct. 25 death of Norman Zaft who was crushed by a pole trailer of the company. The trailer broke loose from its coupling and crashed into the car in which Zaft was sitting.

The judgment was handed down by Mr. Justice S. J. Shepherd in supreme court following its reservation since Feb. 1.

In finding the company guilty, the court ordered a fine of $500.

In the trial proceedings defence counsel F. Armour Ford, K.C., contended that it was a question of whether the hearing should be in civil or criminal court. He said it would have to be proved that the company's position was criminal.

BASIS

Injured in the same accident was Herman Zaft, Norman's father, who was taken to hospital, and Mrs. Zaft, who was less seriously hurt.

The accident occurred at 104 avenue, near 110 street, when the pole trailer broke loose from the truck, which was going west, and swerved into the private car, smashing through its rear and then into the drivers' side of the car.

When the weighty trailer struck Norman was sitting in the back seat and his parents were in the front.

Negligence was based on improper inspection of equipment, and especially the trailer coupling which, had it been in proper condition, would have averted the tragedy, court was told.

HOBBLE ON HORSE BRINGS $10 FINE

A "horse that wouldn't stop jumping" was blamed by Pete Dorosh, Edmonton farmer, for an appearance in police court yesterday that cost him a $10 fine for cruelty to animals.

Humane Officer A. Lawrence told court the accused had hobbled the horse's forelegs so tightly with leather belting that "an ice-covered wound" was formed and the animal was unable to rest or paw for food.

Dorosh said he hobbled it to keep it from jumping into a neighbor's field. Court ordered the "jumping horse" be destroyed.

Accused Reprimanded For Ignoring Summons

Truck owner L. M. Sharpe was fined $10 and costs in police court yesterday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of permitting a vehicle he owned to be operated without proper lights, an offence which took place Nov. 27.

In addition to the fine, Sharpe drew a reprimand from Magistrate J. W. McCulla for "causing everybody trouble."

The magistrate told Sharpe he had, since the offence date, failed to heed a summons, forced police to make "half a dozen" unnecessary trips to his house and failed to appear earlier this week after being released on his own recognizance following a preliminary hearing last week.

SECOND SUMMONS

"A second summons was prepared today," the accused was told. "If that had been served you would have been in serious trouble."

The truck owner responded by asking for more time—"to raise money for the fine."

"I think we ought to keep you here now we have you," the magistrate informed. "You've given everybody a lot of trouble."

"That's what you'll have to do then," remarked the accused. "I haven't got the $10."

"We don't want to keep you in jail," Magistrate McCulla told him. "I'll give you until Saturday. "But be back this time."

Trustees Meet

Originally scheduled for tonight, regular board meeting of West Jasper Place school district will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday, it has been announced. Trustees will meet in "west" building at West Jasper Place school.

Gold was first discovered in the Yukon in 1896.

Protest Goes Before Board

Alberta lumbermen will present a brief to the Board of Transport Commissioners, protesting proposed increases in rates for wood product shipments due April 30.

A. J. Brown of Edmonton, president of Alberta Forest Products Association, said yesterday that decision to present the brief was made by the association after unsuccessful efforts to prevent termination of an existing charge agreement between lumber merchants and the railways.

The railways were willing to continue the present rate for short hauls where rail lines meet truck competition, lumbermen said.

Riverdale League Carnival March 3

Annual carnival of Riverdale Community League will be held March 3 at the league's clubhouse and skating rink.

Racing, fancy skating exhibitions, costume judging and other events will be highlighted by crowning of a league queen.

Riverdale Community League has planned a series of recreational events for people of the community during the next three weeks. Included in the program are a dance Feb. 18 and a card party Feb. 23.

BEST IN WORLD

Others Follow Postal Service

Canadian postal service is the best in the world, H. W. Gregory, Edmonton postmaster, told South Side Business Men's Association in Strathcona Presbyterian church last night.

The department has such an enviable record that many foreign countries have delegated committees to study the system, the postmaster said.

Mr. Gregory said that credit for the exceptional work being done was due a staff that worked so smoothly and efficiently through all seasons. Co-operation was the keynote of the department's success.

The postmaster described the route of a letter from Montreal to Edmonton to show how 26 employes handled the correspondence before it reached its destination.

IODE chapter asked the businessmen to assist the group in sponsoring a fashion show in the Garneau theatre April 30. The association pledged support to the chapter through Miss E. Bruce, IODE representative.

All But Quebec To Attend Fall Conference

OTTAWA, Feb. 17—(CP) — All provinces except Quebec have stated clearly they will attend a general Dominion-Provincial Conference in either September or October.

This was disclosed yesterday in correspondence tabled by Prime Minister St. Laurent shortly after the opening of the second session of the 21st Parliament.

Premier Duplessis of Quebec said his government is always prepared to co-operate with the federal government but he did not state definitely whether he will attend the fall conference.

Social Wisdom Or Disaster Are World's Choice

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—(CP)—R. E. G. Davis of Ottawa, executive director of the Canadian Welfare Council, said last night a crisis has arisen because technological progress has outrun social wisdom and concern.

"Either in the very near future we must make a substantial advance in providing for human need and expanding our mastery of human relationships, or our civilization for all its material achievements may be doomed," he said in the fourth Toronto Community Chest.

Marriage-Minded

CUMBERLAND, Md. — (UP) — Getting a marriage license is a family affair for Jay Lee Johns, 45, and his daughter, Wilda Lee, 16. Johns got a licence at the court house to marry Reba May Gwynn, 22-year-old widow. Then he signed an application for his daughter, who is planning to wed Joseph Ray Barclay, 21, of Carmichaels, Md.

Nails in Ashes Figure In Neighborhood Fight

Convicted of assault and of spreading "nails, glass, pieces of metal and other materials" on a roadway, Mrs. Annie Yeremichuk, Beverly, was fined $10 and costs and $5, respectively, in police court yesterday.

The case was marked by conflicting evidence from accused and Mrs. Annie Tomyn, 12306-96 street, Edmonton, alleged victim of the assault, and Mrs. Julia Gurchuk, 12306-96 street, a witness.

Mrs. Tomyn told the court that the accused had hit her "with a boiler" when she asked her to stop spreading ashes on the road.

"PUSHED HER"

The ashes were full of nails and things," she said.

The defendant denied striking Mrs. Tomyn and claimed that she had only "pushed her away." She admitted spreading the ashes, but said she hadn't noticed any nails.

Evidence of RCMP Constable H. McWhirter bore out the contention that the ashes contained "large nails, broken china and pieces of tin."

Full House For Chorus

A Stock Pavilion packed to the rafters greeted the Ukrainian Bandurist Chorus last night on its first appearance in Edmonton.

And the 2,000 persons weren't disappointed for the chorus more than lived up to all its advance billing.

Under the direction of Hryhory Kytasty, the chorus went through a dozen folk songs of the Ukraine.

LUTE-LIKE BANDURA

Not once while they ran the scale of musical expressions from pathos of humor did the chorus lose control of tone or depth of feeling.

From the start the chorus, which uses the lute-like bandura instrument as a background for chorals, charmed the audience.

The bandura in action sounds more like harpsichord, only on a higher scale. When 23 are in the hands of experts nothing is left to be desired.

The program took a sombre note at the start with two historical songs featuring the conquest and [illegible] of the people.

From this point the songs took a [illegible] tuneful [illegible] work and was exemplified in the group's performance of "A Song About Yuriy Tyutyunnyk."

In this, plays the chorus left the audience feeling exhilarated in its light, deft handling of the ballad of a famous father.

Humor was supplied in the renditions of "The Neighbor's Girl" and "Through The Orchard," a story about a godmother.

Laughter rolled freely from the audience as it was astounded at the sudden change in mood from seriousness to near comedy.

A feature of the chorus was that the director did not stand in front to control it, but sat as a member of the chorus.

The work of this group on its first Canadian tour will add materially to the promotion of Ukrainian culture in North America.

The first member of the North West Mounted Police was sworn in at Winnipeg in 1874.

Police Seek 3 Suspects

Police today are seeking three youths suspected of stealing a wallet containing $881 in cheques and $40 cash from a dustmown hotel room of John Darcyshun of Hardisty.

Darcyshun told police he had come to Edmonton to spend a few quiet and that the three youths had come in when he returned to his room yesterday.

After they left, he said, he placed a wallet under a pillow and locked the door.

When he woke in the morning the wallet was gone and the door key was missing.

He believes the keys were taken by the youths the night before.

Threat Seen For Drivers

"We used to call it an industry but it's becoming a racket."

Those were the words used today by president of the Taxi Cab Association of Edmonton, A. Hollinger, to express his opinion of the new taxi bylaw.

The bylaw places no restrictions on the number of vehicles a company may operate.

"This will certainly cause a panic among the small operators who are working on a shoe-string," said Mr. Hollinger.

SHOW BOOST

He believed that if the council would only have allowed the cabs to be increased slowly no harm would be done.

"This way the driver as well as small companies will suffer," he said.

Only hope for the situation was that a taxi board, being considered by council, will be given power to distribute licences, he said.

David Erickson, secretary of Transport Drivers' local 564, also said a provincial taxi board with power to distribute licences on basis of [illegible] would help [illegible].

"We have fought hard and long for a decent standard for the cab drivers," said Mr. Erickson. He added that the new bylaw would make it more difficult for this [illegible].

He also [illegible] that the unrestricted number of cars would flood the industry with a large number of undesirable transients.

Bachelor Boys Seek Bea's Shopping Aid

By Ben Thrifty

Brave bachelor boys develop into culinary artists when forced to do their own bending over the hot ol' stove.

And same bachelor boys face more than enough problems when it comes to outfitting their apartments. Most young men-about-town don't want to make major investments in the way of china, cutlery and other necessary accessories.

What I'm leading up to is that I've seen sets of bright pottery dishes selling in 16-piece set for four ensembles for as little as $2.95. This, of course, is a sale price. And I doubt whether the same dishes would ever compete with Spode or Wedgewood for beauty and richness.

• • •

But the fact remains . . . they're dishes, are brightly attractive and certainly serve the purpose. No young chaps . . . do shop about before making any large-scale china buys.

• • •

That crisp, boyish look has returned and with it Miladay's fancy for snowy white little dicky-collars.

An assortment of "little-collar" dickies were dug out of a large new box . . . and each sold at 98c. Pastel shades were tucked among the white and I was just a bit partial to a canary yellow effort. For days when I crave to look girlishly sweet and young I might just wear this yellow little collar with my brown cashmere sweater.

Didn't I slip in that boast about my cashmere sweater real neat-like?

• • •

Skirts are slipping back to the 13-14 inches from the floor length . . . and just as I had myself all accustomed with the longer effects. My new worry developed for concealment . . . and long coat lines are a good many more sad souls like poor me.

• • •

Spring-time swing-time has a skirt theme to match.

Swirl of pleats greets the new season sunshine and with a lovely grey worsted accordian pleated skirt comes the promise of lovlier-than-ever silhouettes.

This pleated masterpiece sold at a price to match its newness . . . and for $16.95 it can stay at the top of the list . . . right out of my reach.

• • •

have the fortitude to face when I'm plying the needle and thread.

That is, all-round accordian pleats . . . present the problem. I'm an old hand at the other kind . . . well perhaps a shaky old hand.

• • •

Feminine detail in fashion pervades the sweater story, too. Brief collars, shirred waistbands, ribboned detail, buttons for brightness and scarves add "prettiness" to the woolly wearables.

I'm partial to a pretty of watermelon pink myself that boasts shirred waist-line and short-sleeve bands. It features an Eton collar and lends itself to scatter-pins or light scarves.

This favorite sells at $5.95.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Consult Doctor When Baby Refuses Food

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

When the mother says her baby is a poor eater she may mean only that he eats less than she expects him to eat. It must be understood that all babies do not, cannot, eat the same amount of food.

There is another difference. Some babies metabolize their food so perfectly that they do as well on the smaller portions as some other baby does with the larger amounts. How the baby is gaining and developing is of more importance than how many tablespoonfuls of food she eats.

A Worried Mother seems to have real cause to worry. "I have a girl of 7½ months who weighed over 7 pounds at birth and now only weighs 17 pounds. My problem is that she is a poor eater. She does not seem to care whether she eats or not. I have been told to starve her, but she starves herself. I have lots of patience, sometimes I think too much.

"She doesn't like any kind of cereal. I have even tried the cooked ones to see if she would like those. The only things she will open her mouth for willingly are egg yolk and cod liver oil.

"She is a wonderful sleeper, in fact has a full morning and afternoon nap and goes to bed and sleeps 13 hours or more at night. You wouldn't want a happier baby, she is always laughing."

Your first step is to see the doctor. Her present weight isn't bad, but no well child should lose almost a pound in two weeks, without there being some cause for it. If she doesn't like cereal you can give her baked potatoes, ripe, raw or cooked bananas.

If she likes egg yolk you can put vegetables or meat paste with the egg and thus get two foods in at one time. But find out whether it is anaemia or lack of thyroid, or some other cause, that is making her so indifferent to food.

Our leaflet No. 35 "Poor Appetites," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Flavor of 1920 Lingers In Spring's Fashions

PARIS. — (AP) — There's a definite 1020 flavor about most of the styles being shown by French designers this spring but many of the feminine traits of present-day fashion have been retained.

The waistline still inclines to be hour-glass size.

Skirts are shorter, but they still cover the knees.

Bodices are sleeveless, but they are cut wide enough to give the silhouette a broad look at the shoulders. They are usually pouched at the back.

NARROW SKIRTS

Skirts are mainly extremely narrow, but there are plenty of full skirts around too. Sunray pleating and accordian pleating are popular for them.

Sleeveless coats, looking like a wraps-around men's dressing gown are plentiful.

Sleeves, when they exist, are set-in and often well padded. Some designers are showing huge, balloon-shaped affairs set well below the shoulder line.

NAVY TOPS LIST

First color this spring is navy blue. Second comes yellow and after that all the bright colors known. Pastel shades and white are widely seen, too, particularly for dresses embroidered with straw and raffia.

Shantung and chiffon are favorite materials. Chiffon coats, that veil dresses made of more substantial material, are the vogue this year.

Mannish fashions are prevalent too. Middy blouses and variations of the battle dress jacket are seen a lot. There's a general tendency for full skirts to be belted a fraction below the waist.

The newest neckline is horseshoe shaped and dips to the waist. Middesty vests make them less censorable.

More than 10 out of every 1,000 school children in the poorer districts of London are said to suffer from malnutrition.

The Double Chiffon Sweater Blouse is the Smart Thing to Wear With Spring Suits

In Paris last summer I thought the smartest blouse I saw was the double chiffon sweater blouse. I brought some back with me—so did a lot of other women and I know I've loved wearing mine.

Now these have been copied and adapted, and it looks as if these chiffon sweater blouses would become as great a vogue here as they were in Paris. They are made of two layers of chiffon—usually dark over light—in navy over pink or white—with rib-knit collar, cuffs and waistband of wool or silk just like those on sweaters.

Sounds extreme to you? But they're so smart and so soft and pretty to wear!

TISH, TISH . . . would New Brunswick be proud of you Mrs. F. H. Soper? Fiery-tongued Mrs. Soper arrived in Edmonton yesterday from Athabasca to attend the Maritime Provinces Association banquet and dance at the Macdonald hotel. She heckled popular speaker John Fisher.

Old-Timer From North Heckles John Fisher

Briny salt of the chilly Atlantic lingers on the lips of Mrs. F. H. Soper who makes her home now at Athabasca.

She arrived in the city yesterday forenoon, camped on the Macdonald hotel doorstep until a corner was found in the crowded dining room for her. That's how determined she was to attend the 20th annual party of the Maritime Provinces Association.

She distinguished herself by springing to her feet, with the help of her cane, to lash out at John Fisher when he said a little less United Empire Loyalist talk and a little more Canada enthusiasm would be a good thing.

Mrs. Soper came first to Alberta in 1909 to return in 1913 with her husband who settled on a homestead near Athabasca.

She adamantly declared "I'm a Heatherington from New Brunswick and I know every word of the glorious history of the United Empire Loyalists. You can't be a man of New Brunswick John Fisher."

Mr. Fisher who was born in New Brunswick, attended school in the Maritimes, whose uncle was a premier of PEI; another uncle, Peter Fisher wrote the first history of New Brunswick, pleasantly stopped her sally in ready repartee.

She said later she had enjoyed crossing swords with John Fisher, "until the crowd shushed me up."

NIMBLE FINGERS of children of Kiwanis Home are trained to produce artistic work which was displayed at Strasser Hall Wednesday. Deanne Rutter and Keith McDonald are proud as punch of their accomplishments . . . and it's fun, too.

Kiwanis Home Kiddies Produce Craft Display

Even empty baby-food tins are put to use at Strasser Hall.

Children of the Kiwanis Home make pretty little flower pots from them. This and dozens of other crafts are taught the children by Mrs. Jacqueline Rutter and Mrs. G. Pinchbeck.

Craft work fills in part of the hobby hours of the 50 children living at the home.

Mrs Rutter, director of the home, proudly displays the artistic work of the eager youngsters.

Wednesday afternoon the Kiwanis Ladies' Club sponsored a tea for wives of Kiwanians and friends of the club. Guests toured the home and examined the exhibit of crafts.

DISPLAY ITEMS

Shown were pictures, designs made of tin-foil, aluminum and copper sheeting; panel posters, pastel-colored flowers of china and paper; plaster of paris and wax figurines, brightly-colored plant stands, match-boxes, pin-cushions, brooches, felt-covered bridge scores, finger painting and of course flower pots made from baby-food tins.

Tea was convened by Mrs. H. Gentil, assisted by Mrs. R. White and Mrs. L. Pugsley.

More than 100 guests were received by Mrs. L. W. White, Mrs. N. Cox, Mrs. A. Cunningham, Mrs. Harry Maddison, in charge of the guest book were Mrs. J. Lawrence and Mrs. C. Montero.

Maritimers Invade Macdonald For 20th Annual Dinner, Dance

Tremble and thunder of Atlantic tides shook the staid Macdonald hotel last night when more than 500 Maritimers gathered to brag of their down-by-the-sea ancestry.

Main dining room, foyer, Jasper Room, Drawing Room was packed with banquet'ng, dancing, movie-going members of the Maritime Provinces' Association for their 20th annual celebration.

Retiring president J. H. Brown and secretary J. V. Dodds excelled themselves with arrangements for the varied novel program.

Maritimers will long remember this affair for two reasons. One was the display of the last-remaining relic of the famed Bluenose Schooner . . . the ship's bell. The other was John Fisher.

John Fisher, a native New Brunswickan first and an internationally known writer and commentator second, delighted the crowd with his hour talk of prides of the Maritimes.

SCOLDS ABOUT APATHY

He chided them for their apathy at home in their provinces by the sea and lauded them for their tremendous enthusiasm wherever else they might be. He spoke of Canada's surging growth, her potentialities of power, balance, international influence.

"But Canadians are shy about developing a presonality of their own, he said. They're afraid to fling, sing, dance about the glories of their beautiful country. Sometimes they don't realize Canada's strength comes from her diversity. Cultures are squelshed and discouraged rather than broadened, and preserved."

Lt. Gov. J. J. Bowlen was a guest of honor at the affair.

Program, arranged by Mr. Brown, Mr. Dodds and Mrs. A. E. Knowler swung away to a start with specially recorded music by Prince Edward Island Don Messer and his Islanders.

Greetings from Hon. J. B. McNair, premier of New Brunswick; Hon. Angus Macdonald, premier of Nova Scotia; Hon. J. Walter Jones, premier of Prince Edward Island; Hon. Joseph Smallwood, premier of Newfoundland, were extended.

PRESENTATION MADE

Presentation of a "Bluenose Special" leather-bound book was made to Mrs. Mazie Grimes, Bluenose darling of the summer's Maritime trip to Halifax. Rev. Angus MacQueen made the presentation.

Miss Verna Weaver was guest soloist and sang "My Ship" and "Annie Laurie" accompanied by Mrs. J. V. Dodds.

Hon. Ivan Casey brought greetings from the province of Alberta.

Handicraft display, arrayed in the lobby attracted hundreds during the evening. Mrs. J. H. Brown was in charge of this.

Mrs. Percy Johnson and committee assistants conducted a bridge game while movies were shown by Harry Loder, Maritime products auctioned by George Watt and dancing took place in the main dining room.

Special banquet menu featured P.E.I. fish chowder, New Brunswick potatoes, Nova Scotia donated Atlantic sole.

Anna Doris Spady Weds Ivan Malcolm Miller

Early afternoon ceremony performed recently at the Glory Hills Reform Church united Anna Doris Spady and Ivan Malcolm Miller, Rev. John Krieger officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spady of Stony Plain, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. W. G. Miller and the late Mr. Miller of Walkerton, Ont.

The bride was escorted to the rose-decked altar by her father. She wore a train-length gown of white satin, trimmed with quilted embroidery on the sweetheart neckline and lily point sleeves. Her train-length veil featured satin appliqué.

The bride's bouquet was an arrangement of rose and white rosebuds, carnations and gardenias.

Three sisters who attended the bride were Miss Frieda Spady, maid of honor, and Miss Rachel Spady and Miss Eda Spady, bridesmaids. They were gowned similarly in blue satin, pink satin and green taffeta, respectively, with matching chapel veils.

White, pink and yellow carnations comprised their bouquets.

Flower girl, little Janet Schiedemann was frocked in yellow taffeta, and carried mixed blossoms in a yellow basket.

Ring bearer was little Gerry Scheidleman.

Attending the bridegroom were Allan Frame, Leon Von Patten and Emil Meckiel.

Reception was held later at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Spady received in a dress of navy blue crepe, with black accessories and a corsage of roses.

Slam Contracts Aren't Always Easy

By William E. McKenney

The American Contract Bridge League uses a master point system of awards for all their tournaments held throughout the United States and Canada. Each tournament is given points according to its rating, the number of sessions and number of pairs entered. The tremendous task of keeping these records correctly is handled by Mrs. R. F. S. Harris.

Employes of the League seldom find time to participate in a tournament, except when one is held in New York City. However, when the Metropolitan pair event was played recently in New York, Mrs. Harris participated in this event and gave me today's hand.

Mrs. Harris, sitting South, did not waste much time in getting to a little slam in no trump, but she had quite a job making it. North's three spade bid told his partner that he had at least two aces and a good spade suit.

The opening lead of the small club was won by Mrs. Harris with the king when East put on the jack. Now she cashed six spade tricks. East was forced to hold the King-nine of hearts and the queen-eight of clubs, along with two diamonds.

Mrs. Harris cashed the ace and king of diamonds and the ace of clubs. She now led a club which East had to win. The only thing East could do was to lead away from his king and nine of hearts so he returned the nine.

Mrs. Harris won the trick in dummy with the queen of hearts and the ace of hearts gave her the trick necessary to make her slam.

The MUDLARK

By Theodore Bonnet

Synopsis: The Mudlark, an East End orphan boy of seven, also known as Wheeler, and later to become famous in English history as "The Halfpenny Bill," has the run of London. He shares a room with his brother Willie, Bill Grimes, Tuesday Serpentine. And like other mudlarks, he haunts the Thames embankment hunting for stray coals and other treasures. On an evening in November in the 39th year of Victoria's reign, he finds himself at the gate of Windsor Castle. Now go on with the story—

CHAPTER TWO

Wheeler had heard the other reports of the Queen at Windsor that were not so flattering as Bli, Grams. "Shuts 'erself up in 'er castle like a blinking nun, she does!" This from a patron of the Waterman's Arms. "No more good to England these d'ys than 'Enry the Eyth. 'E's shut up in Windsor Carstle, too, mind; shut up tight! In a blooming vault o' St. George's, that's wot — 'im and Jane Seymour. Not proper for the Widder 'er, eh? Let 'er wait 'er turn!"

But the loyalty of Wheeler to his Sovereign remained unshaken. The Mother of England, his uncle said she was, and it disconcerted Wheeler to hear anyone speak ill of her. He thought about her sometimes, and always stopped to look at her pictures, and he liked to hear his uncle tell about the time he had seen her. Only once had his uncle seen her, and then he had not been much older than Wheeler was now; the day she had ridden out in her carriage with the Prince Consort to open the Great Exhibition at the Crystal Palace; but he was not likely to forget it.

But it wasn't many saw the Queen very more, his uncle said, she being all the time in her mourning. And looking up tonight at her castle, Wheeler wondered which part that might be in.

Intrigued by Windsor Castle

The plenitude of the castle's world; the Queen in her mourning, and Henry the Eighth down in St. George's Chapel with Jane Seymour, less imaginative minds than Wheeler's have been stirred by Windsor Castle. It is the Great Cairn of the English dynasties, founded by the Conqueror and shaped stone on stone by the sovereigns after him, a vast enclosure of architectural anachronisms, high and low, of towers and pinnacles, gardens and courtyards, sprawling above the river like a walled city into which the Middle Ages have withdrawn in full harness and shut themselves up for ever. This is the gate King Harry built; within are the quarters of the Military Knights built by Bloody Mary; and the Horseshoe Cloisters by Edward Fourth, lately redone by Victoria, whom God preserve.

And if we were to go into Windsor Great Park we should see, long, the Long Walk, the elms that their sons were planted by Charles the Second but the rackdows in the Round Tower, have been there since Edward Third's time. Edward of Windsor he was called, for in this castle he was born, and here he sent his Band of Knights, modelled on the Court of Jerusalem, and his wife Philippa lived.

Here, King John of England we have a common-sense after Runnymede; George the Third was shut when he went mad; and it was in one of these towers that another royal prisoner, for that was to be James First of Scotland, looked down from a window and fell in love with Jane of Beaufort, walking in the garden below. The Tudors rode out into the Great Park from here, and his brother John to sign the Magna Charta at Runnymede. This is the manor house of the whole extended estate of England, although of course the Lucknow Tower but what was Wheeler supposed to understand and appreciate history of the boy and sensitive person its battlements in the dusk?

Finds Gate Unlocked

He [illegible] noise of a horse pulling a trap over the cobbles. It faded into the dusk. Wheeler dared to look round. No one; nothing but the fog. That was when he slipped through. Then he had dropped to all fours and was creeping stealthily forward, an obscure object resembling an old clothes bundle propelled by unseen mice.

Dray Horses Didn't Halt

But it wasn't going to be so simple as that. He was only just launched upon one of the most improbable of all routes for stealing into the castle. To the [illegible] any professional cracksman would have shunned. When one considers how he finally made it, one can only marvel at the humour of a Fate that would conspire so elaborately to help him. There was still the inner gate to pass, a pointed archway in a high, crenellated wall of, stout heathstone that stretched across his path between two formidable towers, and it was flanked by two more towers. Because of the thickness of the weather, he didn't discover this barrier until he was almost upon it; then he knew this was [illegible] he had expected the gound to be; the earth, his astonished hands also knocked the wind out of him, he disappeared as suddenly as if still thrust out in front of him, a so that instead of a farewell he the courtyard had swallowed him, screech locked tight in his throat emitted only three emphatic grunts which, in the only practicable the struck bottom with a crash. in the process of coming upon sense of the expression It had tumbled head over heels, and the upon his posterior amid swirling Wheeler was sliding headlong into shock, releasing his vocal cords. clouds of black.

Oil Imports to U.S. 'Scare, Don't Hurt'

Independent Operators Try To Prevent Oil Entering Country

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The American oil industry is as healthy now as it was a year ago despite an increase in oil imports, an interior department official today told a congressional committee.

Ed Swanson, assistant director of the oil and gas division of the interior department, explained that he was referring mainly to exploration activities in the industry.

Earlier Hugh Stewart, division director, told an interstate commerce sub-committee that he does not know whether independent oil producers are "more scared than hurt" about imports.

Independent operators have been trying to curb oil imports.

The interior department officials were the first witnesses as the sub-committee opened an investigation into all phases of the oil industry and its problems including exploration for new sources, domestic supply, production and refining, imports, economic problems, transportation, storage, marketing, conservation and the foreign situation.

Stewart told the committee that the whole problem stemming from sterling areas now is under discussion here. He hoped a "real" understanding would result.

Memphis was the largest and most important town of Upper Egypt, which was built on the spot where Cairo stands today. On the eastern side, where the [illegible] lived, are the [illegible] ruins of Karnak, where the [illegible] and Amun-Ra, his wife Muth, the goddess of the Moon, and Khons, the hawk-headed son, were worshipped.

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

Uncle Wiggily, having steered his sky auto all the way around the Big Tree in Green Valley at the North Pole, now made a landing on the ground. The branches of the Big Tree were like the streets of a city and along the streets walked many animals, such as those whom Uncle Wiggily had known in Woodland near Orange Ice Mountain.

"Well, where do we go from here Wiggy?" asked Uncle Butter the jolly old goat as he wobbled his chin whiskers.

"I wish we could go up in the Big Tree and see what it's like near the top." Bunty cuddled her doll in her paws and looked up into the street-like branches of the towering tree.

"I don't see how we could get up," said Buster.

"There are ladders and stairs that go up into the tree," said Double Dip, the fat little pig. "Let's go up and see what happens."

"Daddy's sky auto can't go up a ladder nor a flight of stairs," said Buster. "And it can't land in the top of the tree from the air 'cause some of the sharp branches might puncture the gas bag."

"I think I know a way to get up into the tree," said Uncle Wiggily "and without any danger to my sky auto."

"How are you going to do it, Wiggy?" asked Uncle Butter. He was chewing on another piece of Swiss cheese of which he was very fond. "I don't see how you are going to run your sky auto up into the tree."

"Around on the other side of the tree," explained the rabbit gentleman, "is a ramp or little street like the ramp in some garages. I can easily run my auto up the ramp into the tree. I want to do that because I want to find out more about Painted Turtle Day. Owlie the Arctic Owl said tomorrow was Painted Turtle Day but he didn't tell us just what it was. I'm going up in the tree and find out."

Once more Uncle Wiggily started his sky auto. This time, instead of going up in the air, it rolled on its wheels up the inclined ramp. At the top was a parking lot, but Uncle Wiggily's was the only auto in it. Buster, Bunty and the others followed Uncle Wiggily out of the car and at the entrance to the parking lot, in a little booth like a candy store, was the big white owl.

"Glad you came up, Uncle Wiggily," said Owlie in his hooting voice. "Here are some tickets for the parade tomorrow."

"What parade?" asked Bunty.

"The parade of the painted turtles," answered Owlie. "Each year at this time, up here in the Big Tree we have a Painted Turtle Parade. All the turtles have pictures on their top shells. They march in front of the King and Queen and the turtle who has the best picture painted on his back wins the prize. It's very exciting."

"It must be," said Uncle Wiggily. "I want to see it."

"Come this way," invited Owlie, stepping out of the candy store and walking down a tree branch street. Uncle Wiggily and the others followed. Soon they saw a curious sight.

In Memoriam

To assist our readers in preparing In Memoriam notices, the Bulletin has prepared a booklet of appropriate words. Write or telephone 42111 for this booklet.

In memory of a loving husband and father, Wilfred Donald Jones, who passed away February 17th, 1949.

Many a day his name is spoken,
Many a night he is in our thoughts,
A vacant chair can fill his place
But no one can take the place of dad.

Lovingly remembered by his loving daughters and son-in-law.

In loving memory of our beloved husband, Wilfred Donald Jones, who passed away on February 17th, 1949.

No one shall you be forgotten, dear and memory lost
I seek comfort from
The sacred memories of his loving daughters and son-in-law.
